MICHAEL E. DUNCAN SR.

Michael Eugene Duncan Sr. was born on August 15, 1966, to Socrates Howard Duncan and Diann Brown. He was raised in Kansas City, Missouri. He attended Paseo High School and graduated in 1984.

At a young age, Michael dedicated his life to Christ and carried his faith throughout his life. He was a man who knew God's word.

Affectionately known as “Mike,” he was a proud Paseo Pirate who played football as an offensive guard and nose guard. He also played quarterback and helped lead his team to district championships at Arrowhead Stadium.

Michael had a strong work ethic and an entrepreneurial spirit. He owned and operated his own painting company and lawn service. In addition, he worked in construction and demolition with K.S.K.A. Construction for many years. He was also a chef at Arrowhead Stadium, where he prepared meals for guests in the private suites.

He was a sharp and distinguished dresser who loved fashion. He enjoyed dressing well, fishing, and Two-stepping. His personality, confidence, and love for life made him unforgettable to all who knew him.

Michael was united in marriage to Sonya Latrice Agnew-Duncan. From their union was born their daughter, Micha Duncan.

He was preceded in death by his wife, Sonya Agnew-Duncan; his father, Socrates Duncan; maternal grandparents, Chester E. Brown and Rosa Rector Brown; and paternal grandparents, Hushel Duncan Sr. and Carrie Mae Duncan.

He is survived by his loving mother, Diann Brown (James Johnson); his children: one son, Michael “Nyeusi” Duncan Jr. (Prosha Duncan), and two daughters Micha Duncan and Serria Landford; grandchildren, Joshua Duncan, Sonya Fowler, and Harper Jordan; and his sister Rashonda Lunnie (Ritchie Lunnie), along with a host of extended family members, friends, and loved ones.

A Letter to My Son

Diann Brown

To Mike

A man once told me, “What God put there, it was ment to be.” He was referring to how young I was when I had you and your sister. Well, we made it.

I told you, “Hold your head up, and I bet I never see your head down, for no one is doing a damn thing for you but God, your dad, and myself.”

In the end, we made it.

I am proud to say I was raised with my children. God surrounded us with angels, and we succeeded.

I will carry you in my heart forever. I love and miss you, Dunk.

Love, Mama

LEGACY

Your love lives on through the family we continue to build. We will share your stories and keep your memory close for generations to come.

Dad, I will carry your love with me and share it with Sonya as she grows. She will know her grandfather through the stories I tell and the memories I hold close.
