A Mother's Love Lives Forever

A mother's love is gentle and kind,
A precious treasure we leave behind.
Her loving words, her warm embrace,
Will live forever in our hearts' safe place.

Though we can no longer see your face,
We feel your love in every place.
Your hands may rest, your voice be still,
But your love surrounds us, and always will.

You gave us strength, you taught us to care,
You filled our lives with love to share.
Until we meet in Heaven above,
We'll cherish forever a mother's love.

Celebration OF LIFE

Helen Green was born in Beaufort County, South Carolina, on St. Helen Island, June 12, 1942. The angels called her home on October 11, 2026.

The eldest daughter of Mother Rebecca (Rena) Smith Green and Father Alex Green, Helen was educated in the St. Helen Island school system. Helen never married.

Helen liked having fun, and boy, did she love to dance! She was always the life of the party, dropping it like it's hot. She loved doing her puzzles and relaxing in her room, watching her favorite TV channel, ION, all day.

Helen was loved by her S.P.I.N. family, and she loved them. Helen also loved collecting dolls.

She leaves memories: Siblings: Easter Bell, Wild Bill (Jean) Green, Nathan Green, (Brothers in Heaven) Roger Green, and Richard Green; Her Daughter: Sandra Wilson. Son-in-law: Derrick Wilson. Grandchildren: Trena and Jamal Wilson, and Josie.
Great-grandchildren: Cion Wilson and Gabe. Nieces: Regina Kelly and Wanda, Nephew: Robert Lee Green. Kelly, friends, and family, and of course, her S.P.I.N. family.

I am thankful for the time we had with her. We'll remember her smile, her laugh, and her kindness. She was an angel. Now she is with the Lord Jesus.

A Grandmother's Love

A grandmother's heart is full of grace,

A loving smile, a warm embrace.

Her gentle words and caring ways,

Will stay with us through all our days.

You shared your wisdom, your love, your light,

And made our darkest moments bright.

Though God has called you home to rest,

We know we were loved and truly blessed.

Your stories, laughter, and memories dear,

Will keep your presence forever near.

Rest peacefully in Heaven above,

Our dearest Grandma, forever loved.
