

After 13 long and heartbreaking years of separation, two souls bound by a deep and beautiful love have finally found their way back to one another. On October 6, 2026, Heaven opened its arms and reunited them. No more distance, sorrow, waiting, or painful goodbyes—only the quiet joy of being together again, wrapped in God's everlasting love. Though their earthly lives ended years apart, their love never faded; it endured through every passing year and now shines eternally in Heaven, where they will remain together for eternity.

Together again, forever held in love, and never to be parted.

"Together again with the love of his life, resting in the arms of the Lord, until we meet again."

LIFE REFLECTIONS

"A life beautifully lived, a heart deeply loved, and a legacy that will live on forever."

Artis Sherman Myers was born on February 28, 1951, in Creswell, North Carolina, to the late Ludessa Myers and Lorenzo Myers. On October 6, 2026, Artis peacefully departed this earthly life.

As a young man, Artis moved from North Carolina to Brooklyn, New York, where he built a life filled with purpose and meaningful relationships. On July 19, 1972, he married the love of his life, Leola Bennett Myers. Together, they shared a devoted marriage that remained a defining part of his life.

Artis possessed remarkable talent, determination, and skills. Gifted with his hands, he could build, repair, and create things other might have considered impossible. Whether solving a simple problem or restoring something beyond repair, he approached every challenge with patience, creativity, and confidence. He believed that with enough effort, almost anything could be made right.

Artis took great pride in his children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren. He especially treasured his grandchildren and great-grandchildren, following their lives closely and celebrating their accomplishments, interests, careers and dreams. He looked forward to visits, telephone conversations, and video calls. Their laughter and stories brought him great happiness, and he made sure they knew they could always turn to him for guidance, encouragement, and support. One especially meaningful moment was learning that his grandson Jermain would make him a great-grandfather once again. The news brought him tremendous excitement and pride.

To his grandchildren and great-grandchildren, Artis was a source of wisdom, protection, humor, and reassurance. No matter how old they became or how far life carried then, they would always be his babies.

Artis's generosity, strength, and resourcefulness made a lasting impression on everyone fortunate enough to know him. The things he built with his hands were remarkable, but the encouragement and support he offered others were among his greatest gifts.

Artis was preceded in death by his beloved wife, Leola Bennett-Myers; his mother and father, Ludessa Myers and Lorenzo Myers; his sisters, Sylvia Hunter, Lauren Phelps, Doris Hill, Mercedes Palin, Reva Myers, Violet Spencer, Retha Hill, Elsie Brickhouse and Marion Lee; and his brothers, Wilson Myers, Norman Myers, and Johnny Myers.

After thirteen years apart, Artis and Leola are reunited. May they now rest together in eternal peace, free from sorrow and separation. Artis leaves to cherish his memories: his loving children, Levi Jerome Bennett (Mary) of Summerville, SC, Sheila Victoria Bennett and Darren Bennett both of Brooklyn, NY, and Sylvia Brandy Myers of Central Islip, NY; his beloved sister, Nellie Ruth Nixon of Brooklyn, NY; six grandsons, Derrick Singleton (Keisha), Levi Jerome Bennett II (Cordenia), Galen Bennett, Jermaine Dublin, Elijah Dennis and Malik Dennis; six great-grandchildren, Deshawn Singleton, Naviah Rose Bennett, Kieran Bennett, Kendall Singleton and Jaidyn Singleton; he also held a special place in the lives of those who regarded him as a second father: Rickey Myers, Linda Myers, Melvin Myers, Willie Myers, Joseph Nixon, Cynthia Brickhouse, Mike Brickhouse, Larry Sachet, Annette Hamm Brown, Von Brown, James Hamm, Dolores Hamm, Erica Hamm, Rose Hamm and Robert Hamm; a dear friend, George Simmons; a host of nieces, nephews, cousins, extended family members and many friends.

Artis will be remembered as a devoted husband, father, grandfather, great-grandfather, brother, uncle, and friend. His practical wisdom, humor, determination, and willingness to help will remain part of the stories of those who knew him.

The hands that built and repaired so much have now found their rest. May Artis rest peacefully in God's everlasting care. Rest peacefully, Artis Sherman Myers, your work here on Earth is complete, and the example you set will continue to guide those who follow.

Forever loved. Forever missed. Forever our Dad, Grandpa, Great-Grandpa, and Friend.
