Poem

The Quiet Ones Leave Love Behind
In Loving Memory of Tony

Some people fill the world with words,
Some quietly pass through.
But love is not in what we say,
It's in the things we do.

Tony was a quiet soul,
Who watched the world go by.
A simple greeting, a word or two,
Was how he'd say hello and hi.

He never needed many words,
Or a smile upon his face,
To let us know that he was there,
And held a special place.

We never know how much we'll miss
The things we once walked by,
Until the day we look around,
And wish for a little bit more time.

One more hello, one more goodbye,
One moment just to share.
One chance to sit beside him,
Just to simply have him there.

And though his voice is silent now,
His memory will remain,
A love that time cannot erase,
A bond that death can't change.

For even in the quietest hearts,
A thousand memories stay.
And those we love are never lost,
Though they may go away.

So rest now, Tony, gentle soul,
Your earthly journey is through.
And though you spoke so little here,
Our hearts still speak of you.

And when we gather years from now,
And notice you're not there,
We'll find you in the quiet moments,
And in the love we share.

You never needed many words,
Or grand gestures to impart,
For though you lived a quiet life,
You left a voice within our hearts.

Reflections of Life

Antonio (Tony) Maurice Wilson, Jr., affectionately known to family and friends, passed away on October 26, 2026, in Tulsa, Oklahoma, at the age of 36. Born on February 23, 1990, in Tulsa, Antonio lived a life filled with love, laughter, and devotion to those closest to him.

A member of the Church of the Living God in Tulsa. Antonio found strength and community in his faith. He was a proud graduate of Nathan Hale High School, Class of 2009, having attended Tulsa Public Schools, and continued his education at Tulsa Community College.
