

My Son

My son—the one I had at 19—still young, still learning life and new things.

My son—the one I watched grow up, so smart, full of life, with a big heart.

My son—he was so amazing. His laugh was contagious; it drove me crazy.

My son—the bright light of the family, the one who thought he was everybody's daddy.

My son—his loyalty never had to be questioned. If he had your back, he had your front too.

My son—if he ever grabbed your lips or face, that was his way of showing love in the weirdest way.

My son—handsome, a ladies' man, with a smile so big and bright it could light up the darkest night.

My son—when you were feeling down, he was there to turn your frown into a smile.

With my son, it was never "I love you too," but always "I love you more."

My son had the heart of a lion—he was a protector, a brother, a lover, and a friend.

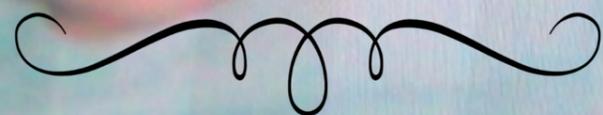

My son—who is no longer with me in physical life but will always be with me in my heart.

"Hey, Ma, I love you."

"I love you more, my son."

Obituary

Dewey Christopher Curtis Jr. was born on March 28, 2006, in Cincinnati, Ohio, to his mother, Dominique Dudley, and father, Dewey Curtis (deceased). He passed away on January 21, 2025.

Dewey was smart, talented, and full of life, laughter, and fun. He had a loving personality and enjoyed making others laugh. He was very protective of those he loved, and his laugh and smile were contagious. A true family man, he cherished spending time with his family, creating lasting memories with his siblings, mother, relatives, and friends.

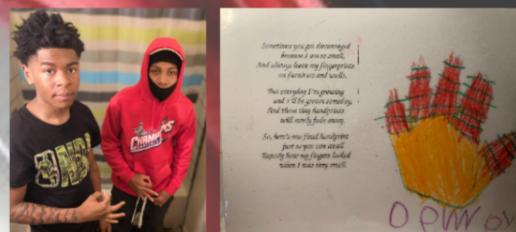

There was never a dull moment with Dewey. Whenever he was around, someone was bound to pull out their phone to record his goofy antics—or catch him sleeping! He was the life of the party. Though he couldn't dance, that never stopped him from getting up and trying anyway. He loved animals, and they loved him just as much.

Everyone who met Dewey loved and cherished him. His presence will never be forgotten, and he will forever remain in our hearts.

Dewey was preceded in death by his father, Dewey Curtis Sr., and his grandmothers, Debra Dudley and Janie Curtis.

He leaves behind to cherish his precious memories his mother, Dominique Dudley; three sisters, Princess Curtis, Royalty Dudley, and Queennyla Dudley; five brothers, Gotti Dudley, De'monie Curtis, Monroe Dudley, Kentrell Dudley, and Kacey Dudley; four aunts, Ebony Dudley, Theresa Dudley, Nickco Curtis, Tina Curtis-Davis, and Mary Curtis; two uncles, Maurice Dudley, and Steven Dudley; and cousins Mykale Dudley, Miracle Lee, Shophie Dudley, Domika Dudley, Hasson Graham and Shilah Dudley.

His best friend and right-hand man, Jesse Mascus, along with a host of other cousins, family, and friends who loved him dearly, will forever keep his memory alive.
