

A Light On A Hill

*A light on a hill seen from afar
Is as a beacon calling one home.
It beckons 'cross the wide expanse
Reaching o'er the dark and lone.
Come, it calls, here is peace and rest.
A refuge from the storms.
Comfort, joy and love inside;
Knowledge, glowing and warm.
Ye do well who followeth the course,
E'er bright'ning as you near – 'til
You are illumined with everlasting truths
From that light on the hill.*
