HER LOVE BUILT A FAMILY, HER LEGACY WILL LAST FOREVER

Life Story

Born on July 25, 1940, in Madison, Florida, Margaret was the beloved daughter of the late Luereather Akins and Willie C. Woods. She was raised in Madison County, where she received her education through the Madison County Public School System. From an early age, she embodied the values of hard work, respect, integrity, and compassion—qualities that would define her life and legacy.

Affectionately known as “Mot,” Margaret possessed a warm and welcoming spirit that endeared her to everyone she met. She never met a stranger and had a remarkable gift for making others feel valued, appreciated, and loved. Whether offering a kind word, a listening ear, or a helping hand, she was always willing to serve those around her.

Margaret was united in holy matrimony to the late Lawson Sutton, and together they shared many years of love, companionship, and cherished memories. Their union was built upon a foundation of commitment, family, and faith.

For more than thirty years, Margaret faithfully served in the healthcare profession at Mount Sinai Medical Center. She took tremendous pride in caring for others and was widely respected for her gentle spirit, dedication, and genuine concern for the well-being of those entrusted to her care. Her work reflected her servant’s heart and her lifelong commitment to helping others.

Family was the center of Margaret’s world. She found her greatest joy in spending time with her children, grandchildren, and extended family. Her home was a place of love, laughter, wisdom, and encouragement. She was the family’s matriarch, a source of strength and guidance whose influence will continue to be felt for generations to come.

For My Great Grandmother

*God saw you getting tired
and wrapped His arms around you.
He whispered, "Come rest now,"
and carried you peacefully home.*

*Still, our hearts were not ready.
How do you say goodbye
to the woman who helped shape your world?
The woman whose love felt like safety,
whose voice felt like home.*

*You were more than a great-grandmother.
You were wisdom, strength, and grace.
The glue that held generations together,
the light in so many dark moments.*

*Your hands may no longer hold ours,
but your love still does.
We see you in old recipes,
family stories,
and the strength you planted inside all of us.*

*Death leaves a pain
that words can barely explain,
but love leaves memories
that time can never erase.*

*So although tears fall today,
we thank God for every moment,
every lesson,
every hug,
and every prayer you gave us.*

*Sleep peacefully, Queen.
Your crown was never made of gold it was made of love.*

Until We Meet Again

When you think of me, don't cry,
Remember instead the love we shared.
For every smile, every hug, every memory,
Know that I have always cared.
Though I have gone to my heavenly home,
My love remains with you each day.
Keep me alive within your hearts,
Until we meet again someday.
With Love,
Mot

To My Favorite Girl
With Love, Tionna

You were more than a grandmother to me,
You were the hands that held me,
The voice that guided me,
And the heart that loved me unconditionally.
You raised me as your own,
Standing beside me through every season of life.
You wiped away my tears, celebrated my victories,
And taught me lessons that will live within me forever.
You gave without expecting anything in return,
Sacrificing so that I could have more.
Your strength became my foundation,
Your wisdom became my guide,
And your love became my shelter.
Though God has called you home,
The memories we shared will never fade.
I still hear your laughter,
Feel your warmth,
And carry your love with me each day.
You may have been my grandmother by birth,
But you were my mother by heart.
Thank you for every hug, every prayer,
Every sacrifice, and every moment of love.
Until we meet again,
I will honor your legacy by living the values you taught me.
You will forever be a part of who I am,
And forever remain in my heart.
Your love raised me,
Your faith sustained me,
And your memory will stay with me always.

Forever Your Baby Girl,
Tionna

Grandma,

It brings me comfort to know that you are no longer in pain and that all of your suffering has come to an end. Though my heart aches because you're no longer here, I find peace in knowing that you are resting safely at home with the Lord.

I may never fully understand why it was your time to leave us, but I know Heaven gained a beautiful angel. Your love, wisdom, and gentle spirit will remain with me always. Thank you for every memory, every lesson, and every moment we shared.

You are deeply loved, forever cherished, and truly missed. Until we meet again, rest peacefully in paradise.

Loving you forever and always,
Deidre Reed
Granddaughter
