Blessed Assurance

God placed the rainbow against the cloud
For everyone to see,
That we might be reminded of
His promise to you and me.

The earth, once so unshaped,
Until He spoke things into place,
Then became a thing of beauty,
And reveals His Amazing Grace.

We watch the seasons come and go,
Surely He willed that it should be.
They seem to fit into His plan
In perfect harmony.

The sun, the moon, the stars so bright,
Shinning down from up above.
Add splendor to the universe
And assures us of His matchless love.
