Reflections of Her Life

“I have fought a good fight, I have finished my course, I have kept the faith:
Henceforth there is laid up for me a crown of righteousness” II Timothy: 4:7-8
KJV

Annie Bell Myers was born August 8, 1939. The daughter of the late Peter and Pearl Floyd Wilson, she was the third of eight children born to that union. On August 3, 2026, she peacefully entered into her eternal rest at her home, following an extended period of illness.

Annie Bell was educated in the public schools of Richland County, which laid in her the foundation for a life marked by faith, hard work, and dedicated service. After accepting Jesus Christ as her Savior, she was baptized at the Temple of Faith Bible Way Church, where she became a loyal and devoted member. She worshiped there faithfully until her declining health prevented her from attending regularly.

Annie Bell was a loving mother and a faithful and devoted wife to the late Lawrence Myers for 64 years. To their union God gave them two daughters. God blessed them greatly and together they built a home grounded in faith, love and commitment to family. She was a proud and loving grandmother, and a treasured friend whose warmth, wisdom, and gentle spirit left a lasting impression on everyone she met.

A dedicated and dependable worker, Annie Bell began her career at the University of South Carolina, where she faithfully served for 30 years before retiring as a Custodial Supervisor. Her desire to serve others continued beyond retirement as she worked as a poll worker with Richland County Elections Commission and volunteered with the Temple of Yashua After-School’s Daycare Program, where she lovingly cared for and encouraged young children.

Annie Bell found great joy in caring for others through the simple but meaningful acts of cooking, baking, and genuine hospitality. Her home was always a welcoming place where family, friends, and guests were greeted with warmth, kindness, and a delicious meal. She was especially known for her signature homemade pound cakes, which she gladly shared with others, and finally became a cherished expression of her love.

Annie Bell's life was a beautiful reflection of faith, humility, generosity, and unconditional love. Her legacy will continue to live on in the hearts of her family, friends, and all who were blessed to know her.

In addition to her parents and her beloved husband, Lawrence Myers, Annie Bell was preceded in death by her brothers: Peter Wilson, Jr., Ira Wilson, and Joe Louis Wilson, and her sister, Hattie Coles.

Left to cherish precious memories and wonderful legacy are her loving and devoted children: Wendy Scott (Lewis), Sandra Grant (Hampton); grandchildren: Courtney Grant, Whitney Moore (Jeremiah), and Simon Grant; great-grandson: Master Theodore Moore; siblings: Nancy Wilson, Linda Singleton (Sam), Lonnie Wilson (Mae); in-laws: Willean Wilson, Sarah Myers, Mildred Myers, Mary T. Myers, Rebecca Myers, Christine Myers, Rosa Lee Myers, Mary E. Myers, Joseph and Queen Myers, Nathaniel and Dora Myers; a special daughter by love: Deloris Robinson; and a host of nieces, nephews, and other loving relatives and caring friends, all of whom will sorely miss her.

The Broken Chain

We little knew that morning that God was going to call your name.

In life we loved you dearly,

In death we do the same.

It broke our hearts to lose you,
you did not go alone;

for part of us went with you,
the day God called you home.

You left us peaceful memories,
your love is still our guide;

and though we cannot see you,
you are alwajys at our side.

Our family chain is broken and nothing seems the same;

but as God calls us one by one,
the chain will link again.
