

Lord I Can't Wait

Lord I've lived a good life,
I was baptized into Christ,
Humbling myself so Diligently,
But lord I can't wait,
To get to heaven.
Just knowing that you'll be there,
No more crying, no more dying,
We'll have to bear,
Just love and joy everywhere,
Children singing, bells ringing,
Doves flying through the air,
The angels are gathering far beyond compare,
Smiling faces, holy places sun shining with a glow,
I see familiar faces I know,
Sparkling water running shore to shore,
Somehow, I feel I've been here once before,
Tasting from the tree of life,
Eating its fruit which is fresh and ripe
From the first day you've turned my life around
I knew I was heaven bound
Lord I can't wait to get to heaven
Just knowing you'll be there!

Obituary

On February 16th, 1976, Thomascena Donald and Eugene Harris had Eugenia Cena Harris at the University Hospital. Eugenia Has 5 siblings Dionna, Koye, Eugene, Jermaine, and Tamara. At an early age she went to Walnut Hills Elementary school and later attended The School for Creative and Performing Arts. Eugenia went to the Cincinnati Cook's School of Culinary Arts where she earned a certificate.

Eugenia has four children Keyila, Jael, Jasha, and Chris, as well as nine grandchildren.

Eugenia lived in several different cities and states including Springfield Oh, Memphis Tennessee, Newport and Covington Ky, and later settled in Maysville, Ky.

Eugenia loved nature, singing, watching educational videos, going to parks, and having cookouts while listening to music with her children and grandchildren. Eugenia could light up any room with her loving and healing energy! Eugenia loved helping people and she worked every day on healing and becoming a better version of herself! She was an inspiration and mentor for a lot of people and will be missed dearly!
