If I Should Go Tomorrow
If I should go tomorrow
It would never be goodbye,
For I have left my heart with you,
So don't you ever cry. The love that's deep within me,
Shall reach you from the stars,
You'll feel it from the heavens,
And it will heal the scars.

THE LIFE Celebrating & LEGACY

Eugene Burks was born on March 25, 1973, in Kansas City, Kansas, to Daisetta (Daisy) Burks and Eugene Fulson.

He received his education at Wyandotte High School and worked in the home health care field, where he was known for his caring and compassionate nature. Among his proudest personal accomplishments was being a fighter—persisting through life's challenges and striving to remain independent.

Eugene met and married Christine Burks. From their union, they were blessed with six children. In addition, Eugene had four other children, creating a large and loving family.

He enjoyed watching sports, especially football, classic movies, and his favorite snack, vanilla wafers. Eugene loved spending time at the barbershop, engaging in sports conversations with his friends, and most importantly, cherishing moments with his children and grandchildren.

Eugene departed this life on June 4, 2025. His memory will live on through all who knew and loved him. He was preceded in death by his father, Eugene Fulson; Jerry Heaggans (Bonus Father); grandparents; and aunts, Evonne and Maggie.

He leaves to cherish his memory his loving spouse, Christine Burks; children, Essence, Quincy, Davion, Regine, McKenzie, India, Eugene, Maya, Jarhett, and Iyanna; mother, Daisetta Heaggans; stepfather, Robert Lee White (Zetia); siblings, Robert Lee White II, Tiffany White, and Renita Wright; and a host of grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins, other relatives, and close friends.
