

In the Garden

Words & Music by C. Austin Miles, 1912

*I come to the garden alone,
While the dew is still on the roses,
And the voice I hear falling on my ear,
The Son of God discloses...*

*And he walks with me, and He talks with me,
And He tells me I am His own,
And the joy we share as we tarry there,
None other, has ever, know!*

*He speaks and the sound of His voice,
Is so sweet the birds hush their singing,
And the melody that he gives to me,
Within my heart is ringing...*

*And he walks with me, and He talks with me,
And He tells me I am His own,
And the joy we share as we tarry there,
None other, has ever, know!*

*And the joy we share as we tarry there,
None other, has ever, know!*
