"Daddy's Girl, Even in Heaven"

Daddy, I was your princess,
And you were my first love.
The one who made me feel protected,
My angel sent from above.
I never imagined a world without you,
Or a day I'd have to let you go…..

If love alone could have saved you, Daddy,
You'd still be here, I know.
So save me a place up in heaven,
And watch over me from above.
I may have to live without you, Daddy,
But I'll never live without your love.
Forever your princess, Daddy.

Love, Brianna

THE LIFE STORY OF JONATHAN KIRKPATRICK

Johnathan Kirkpatrick was born on September 21, 1971, to Ann Kirkpatrick and Cecil Kirkpatrick. Raised in the Logan section of Philadelphia, John attended George Washington High School before continuing his educational journey at Penn State University.

On October 4, 2026, John lost his courageous battle with cancer and gained his wings. Affectionately known as “Jiz-Lo”, John was a strong-minded, God-fearing man who lived life with determination, purpose, and a spirit all his own.

From an early age, John demonstrated an entrepreneurial spirit and a natural ability to find opportunity in everything he did. Even as a child, he was a salesman at heart, selling donuts and charging neighborhood kids to watch HBO at his house. “He even had his own retail business with a popular clientele”.

His creativity and business-minded nature followed him throughout his life. In his younger years, John was a DJ who loved listening to and creating music, expressing himself through a passion that remained a part of his story.

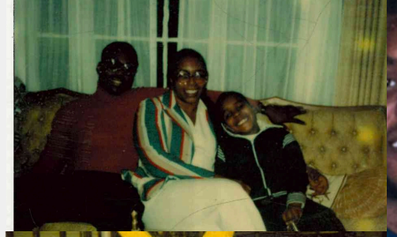

He later graduated from carpentry school and became a skilled carpenter, taking pride in his craftsmanship and the work of his hands. A businessman, entrepreneur, and hustler, John was never afraid to work hard, think creatively, and pursue his ambitions.

Beyond his many talents and accomplishments, John was a pillar in the Logan community and a familiar, well-known face throughout Philadelphia and beyond. His involvement in the community extended to civic engagement and politics, where he was a dedicated poll worker who took an active interest in the political landscape, particularly within the Logan neighborhood. He understood the importance of showing up, staying involved, and being connected to the people around him. His presence, friendships, and community involvement made him more than a familiar face; he was a meaningful part of the neighborhood’s fabric.

Above all, John was a devoted father, a loyal friend, and a man who valued family, faith, creativity, hard work, and community. He was a man of many dimensions whose life touched people in different ways. Whether through his work, his music, his civic involvement, or the friendships he cultivated, John left an impression that will continue to be felt by those who knew and loved him.

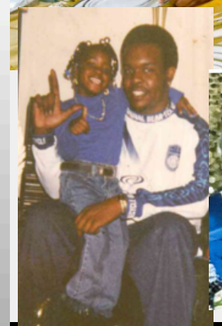

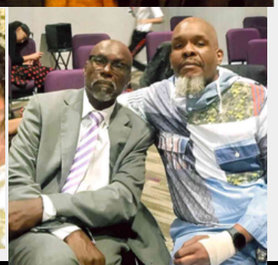

John was preceded in death by his beloved mother, Ann Kirkpatrick, and his cherished daughter, Tianna, who also gained her wings.

He leaves to cherish his precious memories his beloved father, Cecil Kirkpatrick; his daughters, Brianna and Sateira; his sons, Daevon, Lil John John, and Jakai; his grandchildren, Jahsaire and Jayce; his son-in-law, Jeremiah, husband of Brianna; his daughter-in-law, Ty’Libra, wife of Daevon; his brothers, Schervil (Vil) Mills, Ricky (Rick) Carter, and De’Marlon(Dee) Robinson; his beloved Queen, Dawn; his god-sister, Aliya; his goddaughter, She’Liah; and his beloved dog, Sandy. He also leaves behind a host of extended family members, dear friends, and community members whose lives were touched by his presence.

John’s legacy will live on through the family and friends he loved, the music he created, the work he built, the community he served, and the countless friendships and memories he leaves behind. Though he is no longer physically with us, his spirit, influence, and impact will never be forgotten.

Rest peacefully, John John. Your fight is over, your wings have been earned, and your legacy will live forever. You will always be loved, forever remembered, and deeply missed.

Forever IN OUR Hearts
