

Look For Me In Rainbows

Time for me to go now. I won't say goodbye;
Look for me in rainbows, way up in the sky.
In the morning sunrise when all the world is new,
Just look for me and love me, as you know I loved you.

Time for me to leave you, I won't say goodbye;
Look for me in rainbows, high up in the sky.
In the evening sunset, when all the world is through,
Just look for me and love me, and I'll be close to you.

It won't be forever, the day will come and then
My loving arm will hold you, when we meet again.

Time for us to part now, we won't say goodbye;
Look for me in rainbows, shining in the sky.
Every waking moment, and all your whole life through
Just look for me and love me, as you know I loved you.

Just wish me to be near you,
And I'll be there with you.

Obituary

Oh death, where is thy sting? Oh grave, where is thy victory?
But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory by our Lord Jesus.
1 COR.15:55, 57

Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord; from now on,
they rest from their labours, for their deeds will follow them.
REV14:13

Paa Kwabena Ahenkorah, IV was born on May 16, 1959 in Akyem-Oda. He was the only male of six children of Mr. and Mrs. K.B. Ahenkora, all of blessed memory. When Paa was a little baby, he won the most handsome baby award in the local 'Baby Show Competition' in 1959.

He started his elementary education in the Akyem-Oda Government School and continued it in the Hecta International School. Paa, as he was affectionately called, was very intelligent and always in the top of his class. In 1972 he went from Hecta International School to Adisadel College in Cape Coast for his secondary education; and from there to Accra Polytechnic for a course in Accountancy.

After Paa graduated from Accra Polytechnic, he travelled to Nigeria, and finally returned home in 1988. He moved to Accra in 1995 where he worked until 2003. Paa then left Accra in 2003 and moved to the United States of America where he lived until his unexpected death on Sunday, November 6, 2016. He met and married his wife, Mrs. Felicia Ahenkorah (Nee Badu-Mensah), while living in the United States.

Paa was sociable, generous and compassionate; he cared deeply about his family and friends. He would willingly offer a helping hand, not just for his family and close associates, but for all who asked for his assistance. Paa never considered the cost of his generosity to himself.

He fell ill three years ago. He survived the near death experience and returned to his normal life and daily activities after a few months. Paa was fairly well and stable until November 5, 2016 when he suddenly fell ill and died peacefully in the early hours of the next morning.

He is survived by his wife, Felicia; three children, Adwoa, Samuel and Nana; six grandchildren; seven siblings; and a host of nephews and nieces.
