Through two marriages Bill was blessed with two amazing families!
We wish we had room to include pictures of everyone, but since that's not possible we've tried to represent both families with these select photos.
More photos provided by the families will be on display in the foyer.

A photograph of the Manti Utah Temple, a large, ornate stone building with two prominent towers and a central entrance. The temple is surrounded by a low wall and a garden with colorful flowers. The sky is blue with white clouds. The text is overlaid on the right side of the image.

Manti Utah Temple

This Temple was very special to Bill as he attended here with his late wife Marlene. (It was their favorite Temple and they drove out of their way to attend here.) Later after her passing he met and served here as a Temple worker with his wife Rose Gier Mahaffey
