

Beneath the Quiet Sky

The wind moves softly through the grass,
as if it knows the weight we bear;
each blade a whisper, letting pass
the ache that lingers in the air.
Your laughter drifts in memory's light,
a lantern hung in shadowed space;
it warms the edges of the night,
and paints the dark with traces of your face.
No clock can turn, no tide can bend
the truth that love outlives the years;
though journeys close, they never end—
they flow through hearts, through joy, through tears.

So rest where dawn and starlight meet,
beneath the sky's unending hue;
the earth holds fast your gentle feet,
and we hold fast the soul of you.

Today I am saddened...

You are now physically from many of us who loved and cared for you. You left some deep footsteps in our hearts. Our conversation about life was knowing I had someone who understands the meaning of life and what it takes to make you feel comfortable. Mehn as you know we talked about the good times we used to have at the beach, fishing on the dock and always had a great time when we meet up in La Grange in the yard. Times like that will always be remembered. You always believe in right from wrong. The last time we meet up with each other was about three weeks ago when you came and picked up your food by my house and we sat and talked for about two hours. Oh, what a wonderful day it was. On June 8th, you called me and asked me if I was cooking on Saturday and I said yes. You said put my order in I need my stew fish. I never knew I would get that sudden phone call telling me that you were not with us anymore.

You will live forever in my heart. God always takes the good ones. Soar in the heavens with Ma.

As you would say when you're leaving see you "Sis".

Love Ayo.

Angie Young

Good evening yes

On behalf of the Young family we would like to thank all the friends and family there in St. Croix for all the outpouring of love and appreciation for my beloved brother David, in my heart he is seated at the right hand of the Lord now with no pain ,worries or fear. I will always carry David in my heart and have wonderful memories while he was on this earth.

Your sister Angie

Renee Russell

Thank you for being a wonderful caring and giving father to our daughter Ji'Reh . it was a great blessing to have you and Granny in our lives. We will always keep you in our hearts, knowing you're on a journey to everlasting life.

Agnes Carr

David was a hard-working, dedicated father and a constant source of love and patience. We will always keep you in our minds.
