

Your love will live on.
Your laughter will be remembered.
Your cookouts will be talked about.
Your music will continue to play.
And every Christmas, when Luther Vandross fills the room, we will think of you.

You will forever be loved, forever missed, and forever in our hearts.

Cynthia Was One of a Kind

Cynthia was blunt, Cynthia was sassy;
she said exactly what was on her mind.

If you didn't want the truth,
you probably shouldn't have asked her this time.

She was witty and sarcastic,
with a comeback sharp and strong.
And if you thought that you were right,
she'd gladly tell you that you were wrong.
She loved to laugh, she loved to talk,
she loved a good time and a little drink.

Put Cyndi Lou with family,
and Lord knows what she'd say before you blink!

She could fuss, she could joke,
or give "the look" from across the room.

One raised eyebrow said it all-
and somehow, we knew what it meant.
She'd shake her head and cross her arms,
as if we'd all lost our minds.

But soon enough, she'd laugh along;
staying mad was not her kind.

She loved her family with all she had;
that love was bigger than words could show.

And even when she drove us crazy,
deep down, we always knew.

So don't cry too long for Cyndi Lou you know she wouldn't want all that.

Raise a glass, tell a funny story,
and talk a little mess for her.

Because Cynthia wasn't just our Gmom;
she was our laughter, headache, heart.
And now that she's gone, we wonder:
Who the hell will keep us all in line?

Rest easy, Gmom.

Your love, your laughter, your attitude,
and your unforgettable personality
will live on in all of us.

Until we meet again save us a seat, and keep the drinks cold.

Jackie, Janelle, Jennifer

Cynthia Baker, a beloved mother, grandmother, great-grandmother, sister, wife, and friend, passed away peacefully on August 19, 2026, leaving behind a legacy of love, laughter, family, and unforgettable memories.

Born on November 24, 1949, Cynthia spent much of her life in Philadelphia, graduating with Germantown High School continuing on to college then she built a career and raised her family. She proudly worked for Willow Grove Naval Base for 30 years, dedicating three decades of her life to her work and community. After retiring, Cynthia and her beloved husband, Elmer Baker, moved to Tampa, Florida, where they enjoyed their life together.

Cynthia was a woman who loved to live and loved to bring people together. She was social, outgoing, and always knew how to make a gathering feel special. She enjoyed hosting parties, cookouts, and family celebrations where there was always plenty of good food, laughter, music, storytelling, and fellowship. Cynthia believed in enjoying life and making memories with the people she loved. She enjoyed a good drink, good conversation, and most of all, good company.

One of Cynthia's favorite pastimes was roller skating, a hobby that became an important part of her life story. It was through skating that she met her first Husband Clarence Haynes Jr. Their union was blessed with three children. Jackie Haynes-Jackson, Clarence Haynes III, and Demond Haynes. Although their marriage eventually ended, Cynthia continued forward, building a life centered around her family and the people she loved.

Later in life, Cynthia married Elmer Baker, and their family grew to include bonus children Darrell, BJ, Patrina, and Tiphane. Family was always important to Cynthia, and she took joy in watching her family grow through the generations.

Christmas All Her Own If there was one thing Cynthia loved, it was Christmas.

For Cynthia, Christmas wasn't simply a date on the calendar. It was a season of family, togetherness, laughter, food, music, and celebration. She loved having her family around her and creating the kind of memories that would last long after the decorations came down.

And if you knew Cynthia, you knew there was one thing that was almost guaranteed during the Christmas season: Luther Vandross's Christmas album playing nonstop. Those songs became part of the soundtrack of her life and will forever remind her family of her smile, her joy, and the warmth she brought into the holiday season.

And, of course, The Whispers had their place in the soundtrack of Cynthia's life as well

Cynthia's greatest gift was the love she gave to her family. She created traditions, stories, laughter, and memories that will continue to be passed down from one generation to the next. Her presence had a way of bringing people together, and her absence will be deeply felt.

She leaves behind a beautiful family legacy through her children, grandchildren, great grandchildren, bonus children, relatives, and friends who were fortunate enough to know and love her.

She leaves to cherish her memory her children: Son's & Daughter, Grandchildren: Jackie, Janelle, Jennifer, Jaleel, Lil Demond, Destiny, Drew, Ronnie, Jordan, Lil Darrell, Deran, Donovan, Darien, Diamond, Ashley, Dominic, Kacy, and Kyla. Great-grandchildren: Tytiana, Taniyah, Tess, Jasani, Jasir, and Temple. Great-great-grandchildren: Paris and Quadir. Cynthia was preceded in death by her beloved Mother, Fannie Mae Alston; Father, Edward Lee Alston; Sister, Sandra Carey; Brother, Edward Jr.; and Husband, Elmer Baker.

Though Cynthia is no longer physically with us, the love she gave, the laughter she shared, the gatherings she hosted, and the memories she created will live on through every generation that follows her.

Her family will remember the woman who loved to celebrate, the woman who brought people together, the woman who made Christmas feel like Christmas, and the woman whose laughter and spirit could fill a room.

Rest peacefully, Cynthia
Jackie, Janelle, Jennifer
