ARTHUR LEE JONES III

Arthur Lee Jones III, affectionately known by many as Art, Lil Arthur, Lil Aufa, Littles, Little Lunch, and Dough Boy, was born on December 4, 1979, in Easton, Maryland. He was the beloved baby boy born to Arthur Lee Jones Jr. and Mary Jones.

Arthur was educated in the Queen Anne's County Public School System and graduated from Queen Anne's County High School in 1997. With a natural love and talent for cooking, he later attended Culinary School at Chesapeake College. Throughout his life, Arthur was a hardworking man with many talents. His employment included working as a cook at Angler's, Kent Narrows, and Holly's; as an independent contractor installing cable lines for DIRECTV; as a Lead Custodian with Queen Anne's County Public Schools; and with Zodiac of North America, Inc., where he helped manufacture military boats. Never afraid of hard work or learning something new, Arthur also worked as a professional mover, pipeliner, security guard, and in other capacities throughout his life. He was skilled with his hands and knowledgeable about many things, earning a reputation as someone who could figure out how to do just about anything.

At heart, Arthur was a true country boy who loved the outdoors. Some of his happiest times were spent fishing, crabbing, hunting squirrels in the backyard, riding motorcycles and dirt bikes, and simply enjoying life. He loved dogs and had a special appreciation for the simple pleasures of being outside. Arthur loved fashion - he was always "fresh" when he stepped out!

Arthur was also at home in the kitchen and at the grill. A gifted cook, he was known among family and friends as a master chef and grill master. Cooking and grilling were more than things he did well—they were ways Arthur brought people together. He loved entertaining, laughing, eating, and spending time surrounded by family and friends. And when football season arrived, there was no question where Arthur's loyalty stood. He was a die-hard Dallas Cowboys fan, cheering for his team with the same passion and enthusiasm he brought to so many other areas of his life.

Arthur valued friendship deeply. He especially loved his "Scottown Crew." Neither distance nor the passing of time could break the bond they shared. Through the years, they remained close, carrying with them memories, laughter, loyalty, and a brotherhood and sisterhood that endured.

Arthur was a member of Robinson A.M.E. Church in Grasonville, Maryland. In April 2017, he gave his life to Christ under the leadership of Rev. Rashi Pinckney. He later rededicated his life to Christ under the leadership of Rev. Barrington B. Ross, affirming his faith and relationship with God.

Arthur leaves a lifetime of love and precious memories to be cherished by his beloved mother, Mary Jones; his treasured daughters, Desirea and Monae Carroll; his loving sisters, Dawn Phillips (Daron "Bam") and Jasima Jones; his loving brother, Jermell Jones; and his adopted brothers, Paul Newton and Travis Speller, nieces and nephews, Daejour Phillips, Nyasia Ewell, Amani Speller, Daliyah Amoroso, Nyshon Hadrick, Navon Ewell, Daron "Drue" Phillips, Jamion Jones, Amarion and Camrion Thomas, Izaeiah Amoroso, Khalil Jones, and Khalil Speller; his bonus nieces and nephews; his Godchildren, Darrion Speller, Shardae Churchill, Kierra Carter, Sierra Boyer, Wanyae Smith, and Taurize Curtis Jr.; and a host of loving aunts, uncles, cousins, extended family members, and dear friends.

Arthur shared an especially precious bond with his oldest sister, Trina. She loved and adored her baby brother. In a heartbreaking turn for their family, Trina gained her wings just 15 days after Arthur, joining the brother she loved so dearly.

Arthur was preceded in death by his father, Arthur Lee Jones, Jr.; his paternal grandparents, Arthur and Coretta Jones, Sr.; his maternal grandparents, Johnnie and Margaret Speller; and many other beloved family members and friends who went before him.

Arthur loved the same way he lived - big, hard, loud and proud and although his earthly life may have ended, the sound of his laughter, the warmth of his smile, the food he prepared, the stories he told, the friendships he nurtured, and the enormous way he loved will remain woven into the lives of those who knew him.

TRINA LENEE EWELL

Trina Lene Jones Ewell, affectionately known as "Sis," "Aunt Trina," and "Auntie," was born on February 6, 1971, in Easton, Maryland. She was the beloved firstborn daughter of Arthur Lee Jones Jr. and Mary Jones.

Trina was educated in the Queen Anne's County Public School System and graduated in 1989. Throughout her working years, Trina held several positions that reflected both her strong work ethic and her heart for serving others. She worked at establishments such as Hardee's, McDonald's, VF Factory Outlet, and ConAgra. Her caring spirit led her to work as a caregiver with Apex Nursing Services, Inc. She later worked as a Food Service Worker for Caroline County Public Schools.

Her work in the school cafeteria became another opportunity for Trina to demonstrate her love for children. She took pride in ensuring that students received healthy meals and were cared for. If a child needed a meal and did not have the money to pay for it, Trina was known to reach into her own pocket to make sure that child was fed. For Trina, caring for children extended far beyond the responsibilities of her job—it was simply part of who she was.

Trina loved singing, dancing, shopping, caring for others, and spending time with family and friends. And she loved dressing up! Above all, she loved worshipping and serving God. A faithful, active, and lifetime member of Robinson A.M.E. Church, Grasonville, MD Trina devoted herself to the work of the Lord and her church family. Throughout the years, she humbly served wherever and whenever she was needed. Her service included Youth Choir Director, Church School and Vacation Bible School teacher, Gospel choir member, choir president, Steward Board member, Lay Organization member, and Missionary Society president and member.

And then there was her voice. Trina was blessed with a beautiful, melodious voice, but those who heard her sing knew there was something deeper behind it. When Trina sang “Jesus Will Work It Out,” she sang under the anointing, with passion and fervor that could be felt throughout the room. It was more than a song to her. It was her testimony.

She faced many challenges, but her faith and her praise never wavered. Trina was a breast cancer survivor, an open-heart surgery survivor, and she persevered through kidney disease and other health challenges. Yet through it all, she continued to worship. She continued to sing. She continued to praise. She continued to believe.

Trina leaves her love, her legacy of faith, and countless precious memories to be cherished by her beloved mother, Mary Jones; her cherished children, Nyshon Hadrick, Nyasia Ewell, and Navon Ewell; her bonus daughters, Tnesia Ewell and Knesia Ewell; her bonus sons: Dontrell and Milton her darling grandchildren, Micah and Amari Jenkins, Amcerah Agbaoku, Jude Offer, Cameron & MJ, Kylee, Kaylee (Josh) and Savior; devoted partner, Milton Hadrick and her blended-family coparent, Shirley Blackston.

She also leaves to cherish her memory her beloved sisters, Dawn Phillips (Darón “Bam”) and Jasima Jones; her beloved brother, Jermell Jones; her adopted brothers, Paul (Cecily) Newton and Travis Speller; her nieces and nephews, Desira and Monae Carroll, Daejour Phillips, Amani Speller, Daliyah Amoroso, Daron “Drue” Phillips, Jamion Jones, Amariion and Camrion Thomas, Izaeliah Amoroso, Khalil Jones, and Khalil Speller; her bonus nieces and nephews, including the beloved “Burkes” – Rashaud, Atrrea, Liam, Hailey, Darius and Eva; her Godchildren, Nashambia Fitchett, Quante’ Braxton, Ny’Kyla Hawkins, Kierra Carter, Sierra Boyer, Travon Butler, and Travon Speller; and a host of loving aunts, uncles, cousins, church family members, and dear friends.

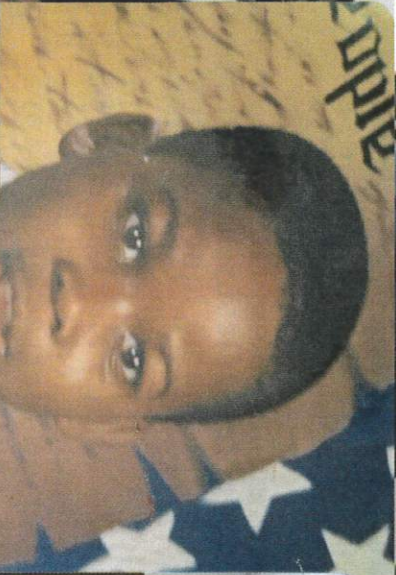

Trina was preceded in death by her father, Arthur Lee Jones Jr.; her paternal grandparents, Arthur and Corella Jones, Sr.; her maternal grandparents, Johnnie and Margaret Speller; her beloved baby brother, Arthur Lee Jones, III; and many other loved ones.

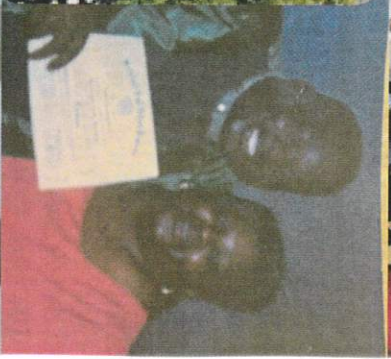

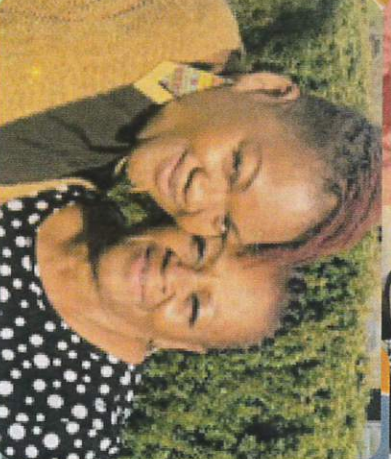

Trina was an overcomer and a walking miracle. Her legacy cannot be measured simply by the years she lived. It lives in the children she fed when no one was watching. It lives in the people she encouraged without judgment. It lives in every child she claimed and loved as her own. It lives in the church she faithfully served. It lives in the family she loved fiercely. It lives in the songs she sang and in the faith she demonstrated when life gave her every reason to stop praising.
