

“LED BY CHRIST, LOVED BY MAN”

He built his life on simple truths that time can never dim:
Be faithful to your family, and let God’s light shine through him.

At home, he was the steady ground where Lisa’s heart found rest;
A husband strong and gentle, whose love was always best.

To Hayden, Erin, and Joel, he was wisdom lived out loud —
A dad whose quiet guidance made his children safe and proud.

A patient teacher, steady hand, a model of what’s true —
He lived his faith in daily steps, so they would see Christ too.

In church he shaped his service not with titles, but with grace.
An elder whose authenticity filled every sacred space.
A leader formed by Scripture, not by spotlight or acclaim —
He led by living humbly in Jesus’ holy name.

He prayed with those who struggled, he listened when they cried;
He opened doors for searching hearts, And walked close by their side.
In youth rooms, Sunday classrooms, On mission trips afar,
He carried God’s compassion like the steady northern star.

And though he loved the farming life, the fields that shaped his days,
What mattered most was loving well in steadfast, quiet ways.
For every hunt, each gravel road, each project he began —
The truest thing he built on earth was the legacy of a man
Who lived as God had called him, with a servant’s steady heart,
And gave his family roots so strong they’ll never come apart.

So now we trust the Savior who welcomed him with love:
“Well done, My faithful servant, your reward begins above.”

And here below we cherish the life that he made whole —
A son, husband, dad, and brother, a shepherd of the soul.

Brent Cloud

1965 - 2025

William Brently “Brent” Cloud, 60, of Green Ridge, passed away unexpectedly on Friday, December 5, 2025, on the family farm.

He was born November 27, 1965, in Sedalia, the son of William Larry Cloud andCarolynn A. (Nelson) Becker.

Brent was a 1984 graduate of Green Ridge High School and earned a degree in agriculture from State Fair Community College. He served six years in the National Guard.

On November 21, 1987, at Camp Branch Baptist Church near Green Ridge, he was united in marriage to Lisa M. Fluty.

Brent was a lifelong farmer, working with his father to raise chickens, hogs, and row crops. He also owned and operated a gravel business. He enjoyed hunting and being a hunting guide, taking particular interest in mentoring young boys in the outdoors. His other hobbies included fishing, motorcycles, antique muscle cars, RV-ing, camping, diving, and traveling. He was also musically talented.

Brent will be remembered as a devoted husband and father with a steady, encouraging presence. He was known for being kind, caring, compassionate, a good listener, and a practical problem solver.

He was a member and Elder of Katy Park Baptist Church, where he taught youth and adult Sunday school. He was a steady, reliable leader who led with gentleness, humility, and authenticity. Though his passing was sudden and unexpected, his family finds comfort in knowing he lived a life of purpose and is now with his Lord and Savior, and that God’s plan for him is complete.

Surviving are his wife of 38 years, Lisa, of the home; two children, Hayden Cloud (Angela), of Green Ridge, and Erin Cloud, of Springfield; his bonus son, Joel Blosser (Alexis), of Hugoton, KS; his mother, Carolynn Becker (Thomas), of Sedalia; his father, Larry Cloud, of Green Ridge; his sister, Dana Gould (Dan), of Leawood, KS; his step-brother, Tom Becker (Dawn), of Jefferson City; his step-sister, Samantha Hutchinson, of Eureka Springs, AR; a niece, three nephews, and seven great-nieces and nephews.

IN LOVING MEMORY

Brent Cloud

FUNERAL SERVICE

10:30 am Saturday, December 13, 2025

First Baptist Church
Sedalia, Missouri

OFFICIATING

Rev. Jon Church and Rev. Dr. Rob Ayers

MUSIC

Logan Fluty, pianist

“Thank You For Giving To The Lord”

Richard DeFord, vocalist

PALLBEARERS

Tom Nelson	Brad Nelson
Dave Sorrell	Evan Fluty
Evan Gould	Eric Cloud

HONORARY PALLBEARERS

Rick Tylar	LD Schlobohm
Scott Breid	Jeff Arnett
Doug Needy	Stan Jobe
Richard DeFord	Ron Hayslip
Mark Marrow	Chuck Reynolds
Tony Cox

Memorials are suggested to

Katy Park Baptist Church or the American Heart Association