

The Bridge

There is a bridge that we must cross to reach the great divide, where peace and happiness await there on the other side.

*As we cross, we leave behind dear friends and family.
And some will grieve because their loss is all that they can see.*

But if they knew what joy awaits there in the great beyond, they wouldn't feel such sorrow when a loved one passes on.

It was God who built the bridge that we will cross one day, and when we do, He'll walk with us to Heaven all the way.
