Reflections of Life

Carnell Cook, the son of the late Harry "Peter" and Sadie Mae Cook, Sr., was born on March 5, 1941. At a young age, his family moved to Savannah, Georgia. Carnell accepted Jesus Christ as his personal Savior as a young teenager, and lived the rest of his life, serving Him. Anyone who met him, even if they could not describe what it was, felt his deep-abiding love for the Lord.

On November 10, 1964 Carnell married the love of his life, Sallie Mae O'Banner. From this loving union one child, Cynthia was born, and through her, one beloved grandchild, Khristen who affectionately referred to her grandpa as "Joppy". Carnell loved "Mae" and truly was an example of how a husband should honor his wife. Their bond was one of love and devotion and it was nothing for people around them to smile, as they heard them affectionately refer to one another as "Momma" and "Daddy".

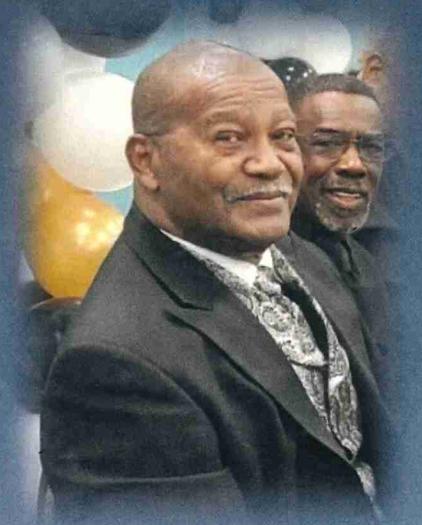

Dea. Cook passionately honored God in his home. He was a devoted Father who had a deep determination to make certain his daughter grew up in an environment that was not only Christ-centered, but one filled with love.

For more than 25 years Carnell was employed by Union Camp, now International Paper in Savannah.

Deacon Cook served faithfully in whatever church he attended. In 1997, "Daddy Cook" joined Grace Full Gospel Church where he utilized both his spiritual and natural gifts while serving on the Deacon and Greeters Ministry. Dea. Cook loved the Lord, his church family and his pastor.

He was preceded in death by his parents, Harry and Sadie Cook, one goddaughter, Tonya Freeman and his "Momma" Sadie Cook.

Treasured memories are forever in the hearts of his daughter, Cynthia Cook Simmons; brothers, Roy (Mae) Cook (Columbus, GA.), Matthew Cook (Atlanta, Ga); one beloved granddaughter, Khristen Ariana Simmons; a special son and pastor, Bishop Steve O. (Annette) Bulloch, Jr.; godson, Romell Dash; spiritual son, Dea. Brandon Hill and a host of beloved nieces, nephews, relatives, friends, and fellow members of the body of Christ.

A Job Well Done!!!

We could not have asked for a better father and grandfather. We could depend on you to show up no matter what. We will forever remember your smile and you praying loudly, waking everyone in the house. Those prayers covered and will continue to cover us. We will continue to pray and praise God as you have demonstrated throughout our lives no matter what season we may find ourselves in.

Your girls, Cynthia & Khristen

Reunited in Heaven

Hand in hand, they walked through life,
A faithful husband, a loving wife.
Through joy and trials, love held strong,
A bond unbroken, a love lifelong.

Then came the day she had to part,
Leaving him with a grieving heart.
Yet love endures, it never fades,
Through time and tears, through nights and days.

Now heaven's gates have opened wide,
And he walks in, right by her side.
No more goodbyes, no more pain,
Together in love, once again.

In golden light, they laugh, they dance,
A love renewed, a second chance.
No longer bound by earthly strife,
Forever home, eternal life.

Let hearts take comfort, let souls find peace,
For love like theirs will never cease.
In heaven's arms, they now reside,
A husband, a wife, side by side.
