Obituary

Patricia Collins, a beloved mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, and friend, passed away surrounded by the same love she devoted her entire life to giving others.

Patricia Ann Collins, 78. Sunrise June 21, 1947 to Sunset February 13, 2026. A graduate of Linden McKinley High School 1969, and worked for Bread Financial for 20 plus years. Patricia was preceded in death by her parents James Leroy and Florine Pearl Lynn, brother James Russell Lynn, Grand Godson Joseph Noble. Left to cherish her memory, son, Jeffery Collins Sr., (Marie Dunlap), daughter Tiffany Wade, Son in love Robert Walton grandchildren, SeVaughn Collins, Jeffery Collins Jr, Jordan Wade, great granddaughter Alahni Taylor Niece Mekayle "Micki" (Shawn) Coles; Great Nieces Londyn, Kennedy and Saxyn Coles; God daughter's Stacy Porter, Benica Winston and Grand goddaughter Tamsyn Osborne. and a host of other loving family and friends.

Patricia was a woman whose spirit radiated warmth, kindness, and unwavering faith. To know her was to experience a love so pure and steady that it touched every life around her.

Family meant everything to Patricia. Her children were her pride and joy, and her grandchildren were the lights of her life. Her nieces and extended family held a deeply treasured place in her heart. She loved fiercely and wholeheartedly, never missing an opportunity to show it. Whether through a hug, a warm smile, or words of encouragement, Patricia made everyone feel seen, valued, and cherished.

She was the heart of every gathering, the comfort during difficult times, and the joy found in everyday moments. Her grandchildren were her greatest treasures. Her face would light up whenever she spoke of them, celebrating every accomplishment—big or small—with a joy that radiated from her very being. That same love extended to her nieces and extended family, who knew they could always count on Patricia for support, laughter, and genuine affection. Her love had no limits, and she gave it freely.

Music was another source of happiness for Patricia. Anyone who knew her would smile when she'd say, "Don't let the wobble come on!"—and she meant it. When the music played, her spirit danced, and she brought everyone along with her. Her laughter was contagious, and her bright smile could soften even the hardest days.

Patricia carried a loving spirit and a heart of gold that made people feel instantly at ease. Her faith was her anchor, steady and powerful through life's most difficult challenges. Her testimony was the strength with which she held onto God. Even when her health prevented her from walking into the church, she would sit in the car just to be near the sanctuary—the place that fed her spirit. Her commitment to her faith was inspiring, unshakable, and evident to all who knew her.

Patricia endured more than many ever will, yet she did so with grace and resilience. Through every storm, she remained strong. She loved her job and often spoke with determination about returning to work. Her dedication, loyalty, and work ethic were unmatched, and she touched countless lives through her kindness and compassion.

She leaves behind a legacy of love, perseverance, joy, and faith. Patricia will be remembered for her beautiful smile, generous heart, spiritual strength, and the way she made every person feel special.

Her spirit will live on through her children, grandchildren, nieces, extended family, and all who were blessed to know her.

May her loving memory continue to shine in our hearts, and may she rest in eternal peace.
