Cheryl Marie Noble

Cheryl Noble, Pasbrig-Cocroft, was born on February 23, 1941, in her family home in Milwaukee, Wisconsin. She peacefully passed away on October 4, 2026, leaving behind a legacy of compassion, courage, service, and advocacy.

Throughout her life, Cheryl was deeply committed to helping others and making a difference in her community. She was an active member of Al-Anon and served as a public speaker for Adult Children of Alcoholics and survivors of sexual abuse, using her voice and personal experiences to encourage, support, and empower others.

Cheryl had a heart for service. She volunteered with the USO in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, and Frederiksted, U.S. Virgin Islands. She also worked with the American Red Cross in both Milwaukee and St. Croix, U.S. Virgin Islands, as well as at the Milton Post Office.

A woman of strong convictions, Cheryl was never afraid to stand up for what she believed was right. She marched in support of Open Housing in Milwaukee and participated in boycotts opposing Apartheid and advocating for the freedom of Nelson Mandela. Her commitment to equality, justice, and human dignity was an important part of who she was.

Cheryl was preceded in death by her brothers, Arthur (Karen) Noble and Tom (Shirley) Browne, and her sisters, Lorraine Noble and Renee Noble.

Cheryl was the beloved wife of the late Joe Cocroft (1960-1984). Together, they were blessed with three children: Denise Cocroft, Kim (Derrick) Mobley, and Kevin (Louise) Cocroft.

She leaves to cherish her memory her grandchildren, Lamont Cocroft, Marie Mobley, Derrick II, and a future grandchild, Joseph Binky; her siblings, Jimmie (Rosemary) Noble and Candice Noble; sisters-in-law, Karen Noble and Shirley Browne; as well as many nieces, nephews, extended family members, and cherished friendships, including Retha Simmons and Claudia Stetz, along with countless other friends whose lives she touched across the country and beyond.

May her memory be a blessing and her legacy continue to inspire those who follow.
