

One Life to Live

If you knew life was coming to a rapid end
Would you do things the same all over again?
Would you clock-in at work five days out of seven
If you knew your time left on earth was being threatened?
With covid, blood clots, shootings and cancer
Heart attacks on the rise, not much time left to answer...
Time is moving so quickly, and we keep waiting for tomorrow
Forgetting that the time we have here is borrowed,
Would you spend more time with family and friends
And finally decide to make amends?
Would you plan more trips or local staycations?
Book flights and cruises and dream vacations?
Spend time with grandparents, parents and kids
Cherish every moment and take time to live?
Actually live in the moment and get excited for life?
Without petty quarrels, bickering and strife?
Can you live life to the fullest and remain financially stable?
How do you balance life with no timetable?
Throw caution to the wind and empty your savings?
Give up your salaries or hourly wages?
Would you deplete your IRA's and 401K
To carpe diem and seize the day?
Life expectancies today are late seventies at best
But what if your time was put to the test?
No one knows when it'll be too late
Although some have been given an expected date.
Through diagnosis from diseases lurking beneath
Their time is ticking at an accelerated speed,
But some of us here, we just don't know
So we have to live for today and tomorrow,
Cherish the stolen moments, when and wherever they appear
Because we've got one life to live, and the end could be near...
