Obituary

Elaine C. Williams, born April 15, 1932, in Cincinnati, Ohio to the parents of the late James Lewis Carr and Ruth Morris.

Elaine married Joseph Franklin Williams (deceased). Elaine was preceded in death by her siblings, Valerie Whisnant, Elrey Carr, and James Carr.

Elaine attended Harriet Beecher Stowe School in Cincinnati, Ohio, where she learned how to sew, tap dance, and sing. Elaine's passion for creating great food dishes and her obsession for clothing began there.

Elaine worked in several food industries like Lenhart's, Hungarian Restaurant, Zino's Firehouse, Event Catering, and Bartending. Her passion for cooking was something to see, smell, and taste.

Elaine loved her children and she would tell you "When you mistreat my children, you scratch my eye ball."

Elaine loved the artistic culture, her favorite kind of music was jazz, symphony, opera, contemporary, and R& B. She enjoyed watching plays and if you asked her where is the best place to go to see a live play, she would tell you "NEW YORK CITY."

Her love for Jehovah was relentless. When Elaine tried to study the bible with Jehovah's Witnesses she was faced with fierce opposition from her husband. After her marriage ended, she moved away with her children, a suitcase and enough rent money for one week. Because of Elaine's determination and perseverance to care for her family. Elaine found employment in the food industry. She began studying with Jehovah's Witnesses once again. Elaine dedicated her life to Jehovah on April 10, 1965. She was one of Jehovah's Witnesses for fifty-six years.

Elaine loved to travel, especially to international assemblies to attend the conventions of Jehovah's Witnesses. She would fly far away and as often as she could to places like: Bangkok, Taipei, Australia, Paris, Canada, and several other places throughout the United States.

Elaine fell asleep in death on October 4, 2021. Elaine leaves to mourn, her children, Sharon A. Jackson (Robert), Michael J. Williams (Pamela), Kevin Williams, and Angie Butler (Lamont). Her grandchildren: Nicole Williams, Melinda L. Williams, Tracie Williams, E'ma A. Grady (Antonio), Kevin Maurice Williams, and Elainna R. Butler. Great-grandchildren: Justin Sanderson, Aniya Williams, Kamiya Williams, Gene' Childs, and Ava Hedges. Her siblings, Travis Xavier Carr (Angela), Cheryl Carr, Janis Cordes, Veda Carr-Pollard (Clinton), Gregory Carr (Phyllis), Timothy Carr, and a host of nieces and nephews.

A Beautiful Woman

A beautiful woman with a golden heart,
Kept her family close and was never far apart,
Shared her love and kindness with everyone near,
We will cherish our memories of you, Grandma our dear
Baking cakes for special occasions and sweet treats for tea,
Our childhoods were filled with laughter and glee,
Her door was always open for anyone who came by,
She wore a welcoming smile and a sparkle in her eye
The memories you've made with us will last forever,
The tenderness you've shared with us will never fade
You taught us how to fight,
You gave us strength; you gave us might.
You fought for us all in one way or another,
You were always more than just a grandmother.
For all of us you gave your best,
Now the time has come for you to rest.
So go in peace you've earned your sleep,
Love for you in our hearts, we'll
ETERNALLY KEEP.
I will always love you with all my heart.
Grandma I will forever miss you. I love you so much.
