

His Bouquet

God looked around his garden
And found an empty place,
He then looked down upon the earth
And saw your tired face.
He put his arms around you
And lifted you to rest.
God's garden must be beautiful
He always takes the best.
He knew that you were suffering
He knew you were in pain.
He knew that you would never
Get well on earth again.
He saw the road was getting rough
And the hills were hard to climb.
So he closed your weary eyelids
And whispered, "Peace be thine".
It broke our hearts to lose you
But you didn't go alone,
For part of us went with you
The day God called you home.

Reflection of Life

Doreatha Coleman Bush was born in Thomasville, Georgia, to the late Essie Mae Thomas and Willie Coleman, Sr. She was united in marriage to Nathaniel Bush Jr. She attended Douglas High School and was a dedicated employee at Sunnyland until its closure. Doreatha had a passion for cooking and was especially known for baking delicious cakes that brought joy to her family and friends. She found happiness in preparing meals, sharing her love through food, and creating lasting memories with those she loved. She also had a deep love for flowers and found joy in their beauty, which reflected her kind and gentle spirit.

Doreatha leaves behind a legacy of love to be cherished by her son, Marcus Bush Sr.; her daughters, Connie Herring and Sheila Richardson (Jamie); her loving sister, Dorothy Jean Brown of Atlanta, Georgia; her cherished grandchildren, Alicia, Marcia, Michelle, Marcus Jr., Cindy, Marquese, Tyree, Shakari, and Ja'bria; along with a host of great-grandchildren, nieces, nephews, cousins, extended family, and dear friends who will forever treasure her memory.

She was preceded in death by her three brothers, James Coleman, Willie Coleman, and David Coleman; and her two sisters, Martha Duncan and Annie Mae McMath.
