

Mother is not just a word
Or a name. It's someone you
Trust and gives you
Hope. With her love,
Even on a bad day, your
Reasons to smile.

A grandmother may not always give you hugs and kisses,
but her love will remain forever present in our hearts.

Obituary

Zelma D. Robinson was born March 6, 1943 in Boston, Massachusetts to James L. Robinson and Velma G. Robinson. She was the fifth of eight children Jacqueline G. Singleton (deceased), Joan A. Henderson (deceased) Walter L. Robinson (deceased), Elliot O. Robinson (deceased), James C. Robinson Jr. (deceased), Marsha L. Butler (deceased) and Rev. Marilyn C. Williams.

She attended the James P. Timilty School when it was a high school, then later attended classes to obtain her GED. She worked for a laundry service in Ipswich, Massachusetts in her younger years, before becoming a stay at home Mother, while also helping her mother and father take care of her brother Elliot while they went to work.

She was the mother of five daughters Stephanie A. Robinson (deceased), Doreen A. Robinson, Stacy Robinson (deceased), Yvette D. Robinson-Clark (deceased) and Tisha L. Robinson. She leaves behind three beautiful grandchildren who were the light of her life and greatest loves, Keveisha Y. Robinson-Clark, Stephanie A. Robinson-Clark, Deon M. Robinson and her son-in-law Keith Clark.

She also leaves behind a host of family and friends who loved her dearly.
