A life of honor, a heart full of grace,
A gentle smile that time can't erase.
He served his country with courage and pride,
A faithful soldier who stood by its side.
He loved his family, cherished each day,
And through his music, he found his way.
With every note and every song,
He brought joy to hearts his whole life long.
From Arkansas to Dallas, his journey is complete,
But the melody of his life remains sweet.
Though his earthly journey has reached its end,
His music and love will remain to transcend.

Remembering Booker

Booker T. Crutchfield, 82, of Dallas, Texas, formerly of Hot Springs, Arkansas, transitioned peacefully on Wednesday, August 19, 2026, at his home surrounded by his loving family. He was born on April 14, 1944, in Scott, Arkansas, to Leroy Crutchfield and Jessie McBride.

Booker was a proud graduate of Jones High School and furthered his education at Philander Smith College. On April 7, 1973, he married the love of his life, Linda Daniels, in Little Rock, Arkansas. Booker worked for Arkansas Power & Light as an Energy Data Specialist for more than 12 years. He was also a proud veteran of the Vietnam War, having honorably served in the United States Army.

After retiring from the workforce, Booker devoted much of his time to the things he loved most: his family and music. He was a talented musician and had the opportunity to perform at the historic Arlington Hotel as a member of the Willie Davis Combo. His love for music and the joy he brought to others through his talent will be fondly remembered.

Booker was preceded in death by his beloved wife, Linda Crutchfield; his parents, Leroy Crutchfield and Jessie McBride; his brothers, Freddie Crutchfield, John Crutchfield, Merron Crutchfield, James Crutchfield, and Vernon Crutchfield; his sisters, Fannie Mae Nichols and Herbertine Rideout; and his sons, Melvin Crymes and Brian Leverette.

He leaves to cherish his precious memory his sons, Alan Daniels of Hot Springs, Arkansas, Eugene Battle of Fort Worth, Texas, and Vernon Covin of Carlisle, Arkansas; his daughters, Phyllis Crutchfield of Bakersfield, California, Jacquelyn Crutchfield of St. Louis, Missouri, Lisa Logan of Conway, Arkansas, Niki Battle of Hot Springs, Arkansas, and Quisha Crutchfield of Dallas, Texas; his brother, Benjamin Crutchfield of Henderson, Nevada; his sister, Terecia Bailey of Colton, California; along with a host of grandchildren, great-grandchildren, great-great-grandchildren, relatives, and friends who will forever cherish his memory.
