Thank you, Charley, for your witness to our nation and the world. Your obedience to the Word made you a mighty warrior in the realm of the spirit and here on Earth. You truly wore the full armor of God with purpose and grace. You stood firm with the belt of truth buckled around your waist, with the breastplate of righteousness in place and with your feet fitted with the readiness that comes from the gospel of peace. You took up the shield of faith, with which you extinguish all the flaming arrows of the evil one. You took the helmet of salvation and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God.

Your work here has only just begun. Your service and your sacrifice to God's Kingdom have awakened a revival across the land.

Well done, my brother. Well done.

I'm not sure exactly what I want to say . I feel torn, hurt and incredibly sad. I've cried almost daily. Charlie was a heck of a guy whom affected our youth and others in a way I've not seen the likes of - ever before. He had the ability to debate with everyone without ever stooping to their levels, always respectful. (Wish I had that ability). His love of his family was absolutely huge!! Watching the world in mourning, bearing testament to all those feeling the loss, emphasizes how I'm but a drop but all those drops have formed the biggest and best river.
