My Big Sister

Angie, you were such a big part of my life. I'm still having a problem believing that you are no longer here with me physically. It's 3:00 in the morning and I'm up thinking and writing about you. You were the best big sister a girl could have! You taught me so many things about life as we were growing up. I will really miss our daily phone calls in the morning when we talked for hours. I remember when we were growing up and we got in trouble with dad. You would accept the punishment for us all because you were the oldest. You were also the boldest going out of the house when dad told us "Nobody go out and nobody come in". I think what I will miss the most is your good spirit and your heart of gold. You always wanted to help others and many times you would offer to help me financially without me asking. That was who you were!! Your loving spirit had a way of making others feel good and relaxed. That was your gift!! I also remember you complaining about mom and dad asking me to handle business matters for them. You would often say, "I'm the big sister" or "I'm the oldest and I should be doing that". They knew each of their children's gifts and talents. Your other gift was that of hospitality. All your family friends, co-workers, and church friends came around because of your magnetic personality. It was such a joy to you to have a party or host a dinner at your house. You really knew how to throw a party girl!! You loved everybody especially your family, and you showed it. You leave a legacy to your sons, grands and great grands and I pray that they will fill those big shoes you left them. I love you big sis!!!

Tribute to Angela

It was such a sad day when I found out that you had gone on to Glory. I still find it hard to believe that I can't call you anymore. You were so important to me and I am so thankful that you were my big Sis. Of course, have been in my life always, but since Mom passed, you have been more like a mother to me. You have been with me for all my important life events like I knew you would be. You were there for me at graduations, birthdays and any other special occasions. When we lived in Scotland, you came to see about us. When I had Bryce and lived in Virginia, you and Robin came the next day to see about us. When I was in the hospital, you were there. You have always made me feel special and loved and my feelings for you was reciprocated. You have always had a big heart and wanting to help and support everyone. You were an "Influencer" before it was a thing. When I moved back to Maryland, you used your influence to get me a job at BCDSS where I have been since then. You also influence me to join SHBC and influenced other to attend church. You even provide transportation to anyone who wanted to go to church (Evangelism). You loved the Lord and your church family. Your love and support were not just for me and the family. It was extended it to anyone who needed help. You had a way of connecting people with other people and resources to help their situation. You gave good advice and you had great insight even if we didn't want to hear the truth sometimes. You always made your position known and you were ALWAYS your true and authentic self. You were funny and adventurous and you treated everyone the way you wanted to be treated. I can go on and on about how much you meant to me and how you helped to shape me into the woman that I am today. You were a beautiful and loving soul. I have so many wonderful memories of you that I will cherish until we meet again. I will love you always, RIP Angela!

MY BEAUTIFUL SISTER

My beautiful sister, you broke our hearts when you passed away. We will always remember the kindness of your heart, your beautiful smile, your funny jokes, your great cooking, and your love for Gog. We all know how much you loved your family and friends. You have been a blessing to this family and life will never be the same without your joy and inspiration.

Angie B Good! I love you! Rest in peace!

Angela Louise Baskerville

We've lost our loving sister. Angela, way too soon. We were hoping for another 20 years of enjoying her passion for life, for family and for friends. She had a big heart that she opened up to everyone. To know her was to love her. And she was beloved by all. We shared a siblings luncheon on Monday January 2nd. She looked so good, so happy. Her skin was radiant, reminding of the beautiful woman she's always been. What a blessing it was for us to get together one last time to break bread. While sleeping on January 5, she departed this life to be with her Lord. She had a host of medical issues but didn't appear to be under duress. She put up the good fight over the years. Always with a smile. She was our big sister, and we will miss her tremendously. Angela was such a unique but stubborn person who insisted on doing it her way and when she was ready. And that included following medical advice when she was ready. But the Lord was ready for her now. Our hearts go out to the family, especially her two sons, Tyrone and Jerome Baskerville. They are the new heads of the family, and we wish them Godspeed. Our sibling quintet is now without our lead singer.
