

Miss Me But Let Me Go

When I come to the end of the road
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom-filled room,
Why cry for a soul set free!
Miss me a little - but not for long
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that we once shared,
Miss me, but let me go.
For this journey that we all must take
And each must go alone;
It's all a part of the Master's plan
A step on the road to home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart
Go to the friends we know,
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds.
Miss me, but let me go.

Obituary

Juan DeAlo Lester was born on September 27, 1982, in Cincinnati, Ohio, to Choya Jackson and Glory Lowery.

Juan, affectionately known as “Gwoptime Dolla” Lester, was one of nine children and was raised in the West End (Lincoln Courts), where he received his education from Hays Elementary, Bloom Middle School, and Taft High School. Juan became a self-made entrepreneur and a well-known local rapper in Cincinnati.

Juan Lester had a great sense of humor. He was very charismatic, family-oriented, and caring. Juan had no problem getting the attention of everyone when he walked into a room. He was a loving father, a true brother, and a friend.

Juan leaves his loving memory to be cherished by his mother, Glory Lowery; five sons, Na’jah, Jukari, Damarion, Choya, and Princeamir; six daughters, Brook, Breana, Ryan, Brianna, Monyque, and Chyla; and one grandson, My’jah. He also leaves behind seven sisters and six brothers, along with a host of nieces, nephews, friends, and family.

Juan will truly be remembered and missed.
