CELEBRATING THE LIFE AND LEGACY

Jermel Domonique

Tate, Sr.

December 10, 1987 - August 26, 2026

"As We Reflect..."

Jermel Tate

"For you shall go out with joy, and be led out with peace; The mountains and the hill shall break forth into singing before you, and all the trees of the field shall clap their hands."

-Isaiah 55:12 NKJV

Jermel Dominique Tate was a cheerful and loving man whose laughter could brighten even the darkest of days. His joyful spirit, warm heart, and ability to find humor in life left a lasting impression on everyone who knew him. He was a hard worker and devoted provider who took great pride in caring for his spouse and children. His love, however, extended far beyond his immediate household. He was a caring uncle who showed up for his nieces and nephews and made sure they knew they were loved and supported. Jermel was born to Marsha Tate and Jimmy Welch in December 1987. He attended Edison High School, where he played on the basketball team, and later graduated from Street School. Basketball was a sport he truly enjoyed, and it remained a meaningful part of his life. In his downtime, Jermel was also a true gamer, finding relaxation and enjoyment in the games he loved. Whether playing basketball or immersed in a game at home, he knew how to enjoy life and make the most of each moment.

Above all, Jermel was a family man. He loved his family deeply and built a life with his best friend, Rochelle, with whom he shared three beloved children: Shawna, Nevaeh, and Jermel Jr. His children were a source of immense love and pride, and being their father was one of the roles he cherished most. His devotion to Rochelle and their children was reflected in the way he worked hard, provided for them, and remained present in their lives. Through his love and dedication, he gave his family memories and a foundation they will carry with them always.

Jermel held a special love for his mother, Marsha, who preceded him in death. He missed her deeply, and the bond they shared remained an important part of his life. Her memory lived within his heart, and the love between them continued to shape the man he was.

Jermel was also deeply connected to his siblings. He shared a particularly close and special bond with his older sister, Alesha Doss. Their relationship was filled with love, laughter, memories, and the unique connection that only siblings can share. Alesha held a special place in Jermel's heart, and the memories they created together will remain precious to her. He also leaves to cherish his memory his siblings, Brytne Singleton and Jimmy Welch Jr., who will forever carry the love and memories they shared with their brother.

Those who knew Jermel will remember not only his strength, work ethic, and devotion, but also his laughter, humor, and joyful presence. He had a way of bringing light into a room and making people smile simply by being himself. Jermel knew how to make ordinary moments memorable. Jermel leaves behind a lasting legacy of love, laughter, perseverance, and devotion to family.

Though his time on earth was not as long as those who loved him would have wished, the impact of his life will continue through his children, Rochelle, his siblings, nieces and nephews, cousins and aunts, and everyone who had the privilege of knowing him. His love will remain in their hearts, his laughter will echo in their memories, and his legacy will live on through the lives he touched.

May he now rest in peace, reunited with his beloved mother, cousin/brother Jarod and aunt Debra and uncle Raymond and Paul. May the joy and love he gave so freely continue to surround the family he leaves behind.

Loving Tribute

It is hard to imagine a world without my Dad's voice, his guidance, and his quiet strength. But as we surrender him to the heavens today, our hearts are filled with overwhelming gratitude for the beautiful years God allowed us to walk beside him. He was a good and faithful person, and he has earned his rest in the joyful, everlasting light of heaven. Dad, thank you for being our protector, for loving us unconditionally, and for teaching us how to trust in God. We release you into the arms of your Heavenly Father, knowing you are finally home.

Sleep well, Dad, we love you so much and we will be reunited again soon,
Love and kisses from your loving daughter,

Nevaeh Tate

We Love You!
