River Of Tears

If all the tears ever shed at the loss of one so dear, flowed together in one place a river would appear.

If every heartache ever felt were piled high we’d find, mountains scattered everywhere, built by all mankind.

Our world is filled with sorrow and of suffering, we well know.

Our Savior too, suffered here because He loves us so.

It’s out of love that we shed tears and grieve when one goes on, because we know we’ll miss them so now that they have gone.

But tears of sorrow, we now shed will one day be replaced, with tears of joy when in God’s time we once again embrace.
