

Don't Cry for Me

Don't cry for me forever,
though I know your hearts are torn.
Just remember all the love we shared before the day I was gone.

To my children,

Please know that I never truly left you.
I'm the whisper in the wind, the sun
shining through your window,

the voice inside your heart telling you to keep going.

To my mom,

Please don't cry, for I am near,
I wipe every tear and quiet your fear.
I live in your heart, in the breeze, in the sun,
our beautiful bond can never be undone.

To my brothers and sisters,

Thank you for every laugh, every fight, every memory.
We shared a bond that even death cannot break.
Carry me with you in the stories you tell and the moments that make you smile again.

To my family,

I see every tear that falls for me.
But please don't let sadness erase the love.
Celebrate my life, remember my spirit,
and hold each other a little tighter now.
I'm at peace, watching over all of you every day.
And when your hearts ache the most, look to the sky ---
That's where my love will always remain.

Until we meet again,
I love you all forever.
