In Loving Memory

“A LIFE OF QUIET STRENGTH,
GENEROUS LOVE, AND UNWAVERING DEVOTION.”

Joseph N. Singleton

Joseph Nathan Singleton, a cherished and respected member of the Savannah community, was born on April 1, 1936, in Savannah, Georgia. He transitioned peacefully on April 22, 2025, in his beloved hometown, leaving behind a powerful legacy rooted in love, faith, and service. Joseph was a man of integrity, warmth, and quiet strength. Throughout his life, he touched countless lives with his generosity, kindness, and steadfast dedication to others. Whether offering a helping hand, words of wisdom, or simply a listening ear, Joseph made a lasting impression on all who knew him.

He was preceded in death by his loving parents, Abraham Singleton, Sr. and Alberta Singleton, and his brothers Benjamin Singleton, Abraham Singleton, Jr., and Richard Singleton, Sr. Though he endured great personal loss, Joseph remained a pillar of strength, upheld by his faith and the deep love of his family. Left to honor his memory are his devoted children: Gwendolyn Renee Singleton of Savannah, GA; Asbury (Brenda) Singleton of Savannah, GA; Maurice Singleton of Atlanta, GA; and Dr. Josephine (Dr. Keith) Harris of Spanaway, WA.

Joseph also shared a deep, lifelong bond with Patricia Baker of Savannah, GA, a truly caring and constant presence in his life. She was not only one of the most faithful and loving people he ever knew, but also someone who stood by his side through every season of life—until the very end. Her devotion and care were unmatched, and she held a special place in Joseph's heart. He proudly retired from the City of Savannah, where he devoted many years of loyal service at the Savannah Civic Center. His work ethic, professionalism, and commitment to his community earned him the admiration of all who had the privilege of working with him. Joseph was a proud and loving grandfather to Shaquita (King) Oliver, Tramell Plummer, Kareem Emerson, Audrey Biggins, Latifah Biggins, Marty Singleton, Kevin Harding, all of Savannah, GA; Lisheenia Delmar of Atlanta, GA; Tarsha Jones of Hampton, VA; Latesha Jones of Claxton, GA; Jamontay Jones of Spanaway, WA; Tony (Aaria) Maron Jr. of Colorado Springs, CO; and Deonte Maron of Kansas City, MO. His legacy lives on through each of them—anchored by the wisdom, love, and life lessons he poured into their lives. He also leaves behind a host of devoted nieces, nephews, cousins, and lifelong friends who will forever cherish his memory, his guidance, and his unwavering love. Joseph Nathan Singleton will be remembered not only for what he did but for who he was—a compassionate soul whose presence made the world a better place. His life was a testament to the power of love, community, and quiet leadership. He will be deeply missed and forever celebrated.

Acknowledgements

The family of Singleton would like to express our deepest gratitude for the outpouring of love, support, and prayers during this time of loss. Your kind words, calls, visits, and acts of compassion have brought us comfort and strength.

Expressions Of Gratitude

A special thank you to those who cared for our father in his later years and stood beside him in love and service. We extend our heartfelt appreciation to Patricia Baker, whose unwavering presence and devotion meant more than words can express.

To the City of Savannah, the Savannah Civic Center family, friends, neighbors, church members, and extended relatives—thank you for being part of his journey and honoring his legacy.

May God bless each of you for the love you've shown. Your support will never be forgotten.

THE SINGLETON FAMILY
