The Goodness of God

I love you Lord for your mercy never fails me all my day you held my hand. From the moment that I wake up. I will sing the goodness of God. All my life you have been faithful. All my life you been so good. I love your voice you have lead me through the fire. In darkest night you were close like no other I known as a father. I known as a friend.

Obituary

Jane Elizabeth Rutland, aged 67 passed away peacefully on April 18, 2025, in Cincinnati, OH. Born on July 12, 1957, in Lexington, KY, Jane was a beacon of love and positivity throughout her life.

Jane's early education was at Hughes High School, and she spent a significant part of her career at Children's Hospital where she worked for 18 years, dedicating her life to the care and well-being of others. A devout member of Mt. Sinai Baptist Church, her faith was a cornerstone of her existence.

Jane's personality was as vibrant as her life; she was always the first to smile and had an enduring love for scary movies. Her joy was most palpable when she was dancing and singing, bringing light and energy into every room. In quieter moments, Jane enjoyed watching QVC, always on the lookout for something special.

She was preceded in death by both her parents; seven aunts; and two uncles.

She leaves behind a loving family: sons Norman Hill and Christopher Hill; daughter-in-law Theresa Warren; stepchildren Krystal Kinney, Charles Rutland III, and Alishia Rutland; grandchildren Nyasha Watson, Ameer Hill and Christopher Hill Jr., and sister Ramona Wilkins; uncles John Hill (Eula), Bruce Moore, Adell Kelley; aunts Milleent Stewart, Darlene Johnson, Vera Suggs, and Barbars Hill-Kelley and a special friend Sherwood.
