TRIBUTES

From Her Friend, Shanell:

Jackee,
As I sit down to write this letter, my heart feels heavy knowing that it's time to say goodbye. I still can't believe you're gone. It feels unreal, and my heart aches with sorrow. You truly were one of the nicest people I've ever met, and the impact you had on my life is indescribable. You have been more than just a friend—you have been my rock, my confidant, and my sister. Your kindness and love are unmatched.

I find myself reminiscing about our spa days, those blissful moments of relaxation and laughter. I miss our girls' nights out, where we would lose ourselves in fun and create unforgettable memories. I can't forget our encouraging morning text messages and our phone conversations on the way home from work, filled with stories, laughter, frustration, and sometimes even tears. I cherish the special sisterhood bond we shared.

I treasure our adventures together, from trips we took to our family outings filled with joy and love. Every moment spent with you is a memory I will cherish forever.

Although you may no longer be physically here, your spirit will forever remain in my heart. Thank you for being such a beautiful part of my life. I promise to carry your kindness, love, and joy with me every day. Amari and ya girl Olivia will grow up together and consistently be reminded of you.

Until we meet again, my dear friend.

I love you, Shanell

The Pain Passes and the Beauty Remains

Missing someone is sadness wrapped in the blessings of having known them. We let our minds wander through the many "what ifs." We tend to forget the beautiful memories we shared, knowing someone so affectionate. We tend to let the causes of losing someone take over the remembrance of the light they shone. So let the pain pass, so you can see clearly the beauty of what was left behind. Her love so bright, smile so big, her stylish ways, and her love for a good celebration. Even on your dark days, stand brighter than the sunflowers she loved.

Myra - Niece

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS

Our family acknowledges with gratitude the many comforting expressions of love and sympathy extended during our time of sorrow. It lifted our hearts to know that you care. May God continue to bless each of you.

LIFE STORY OF

Jackee Katina Bacchus-Everett

Jackee Katina Bacchus-Everett, born on June 20, 1988, peacefully departed this world on July 5, 2025. A beloved daughter, wife, mother, sister, and friend, she leaves behind a vibrant legacy marked by love and creativity.

Jackee was a proud graduate of Julia R. Masterman High School, a top institution in Philadelphia, and later went on to earn her Bachelor's Degree in Public Health from Temple University. With a passion for serving others, she proudly dedicated 18 years of her life to Walmart, rising through the ranks to become a successful store manager—a role in which she exemplified commitment and leadership.

Jackee had a deep passion for the arts—she loved crafting, sewing, and all things fashion. She took pride in expressing herself through her wide array of footwear, clothes, and handbags, and was known for showcasing her unique hairstyles, which often featured vibrant colors and versatility. She also enjoyed fine dining and moments of self-care, from spa days and massages to having her nails done with creative designs.

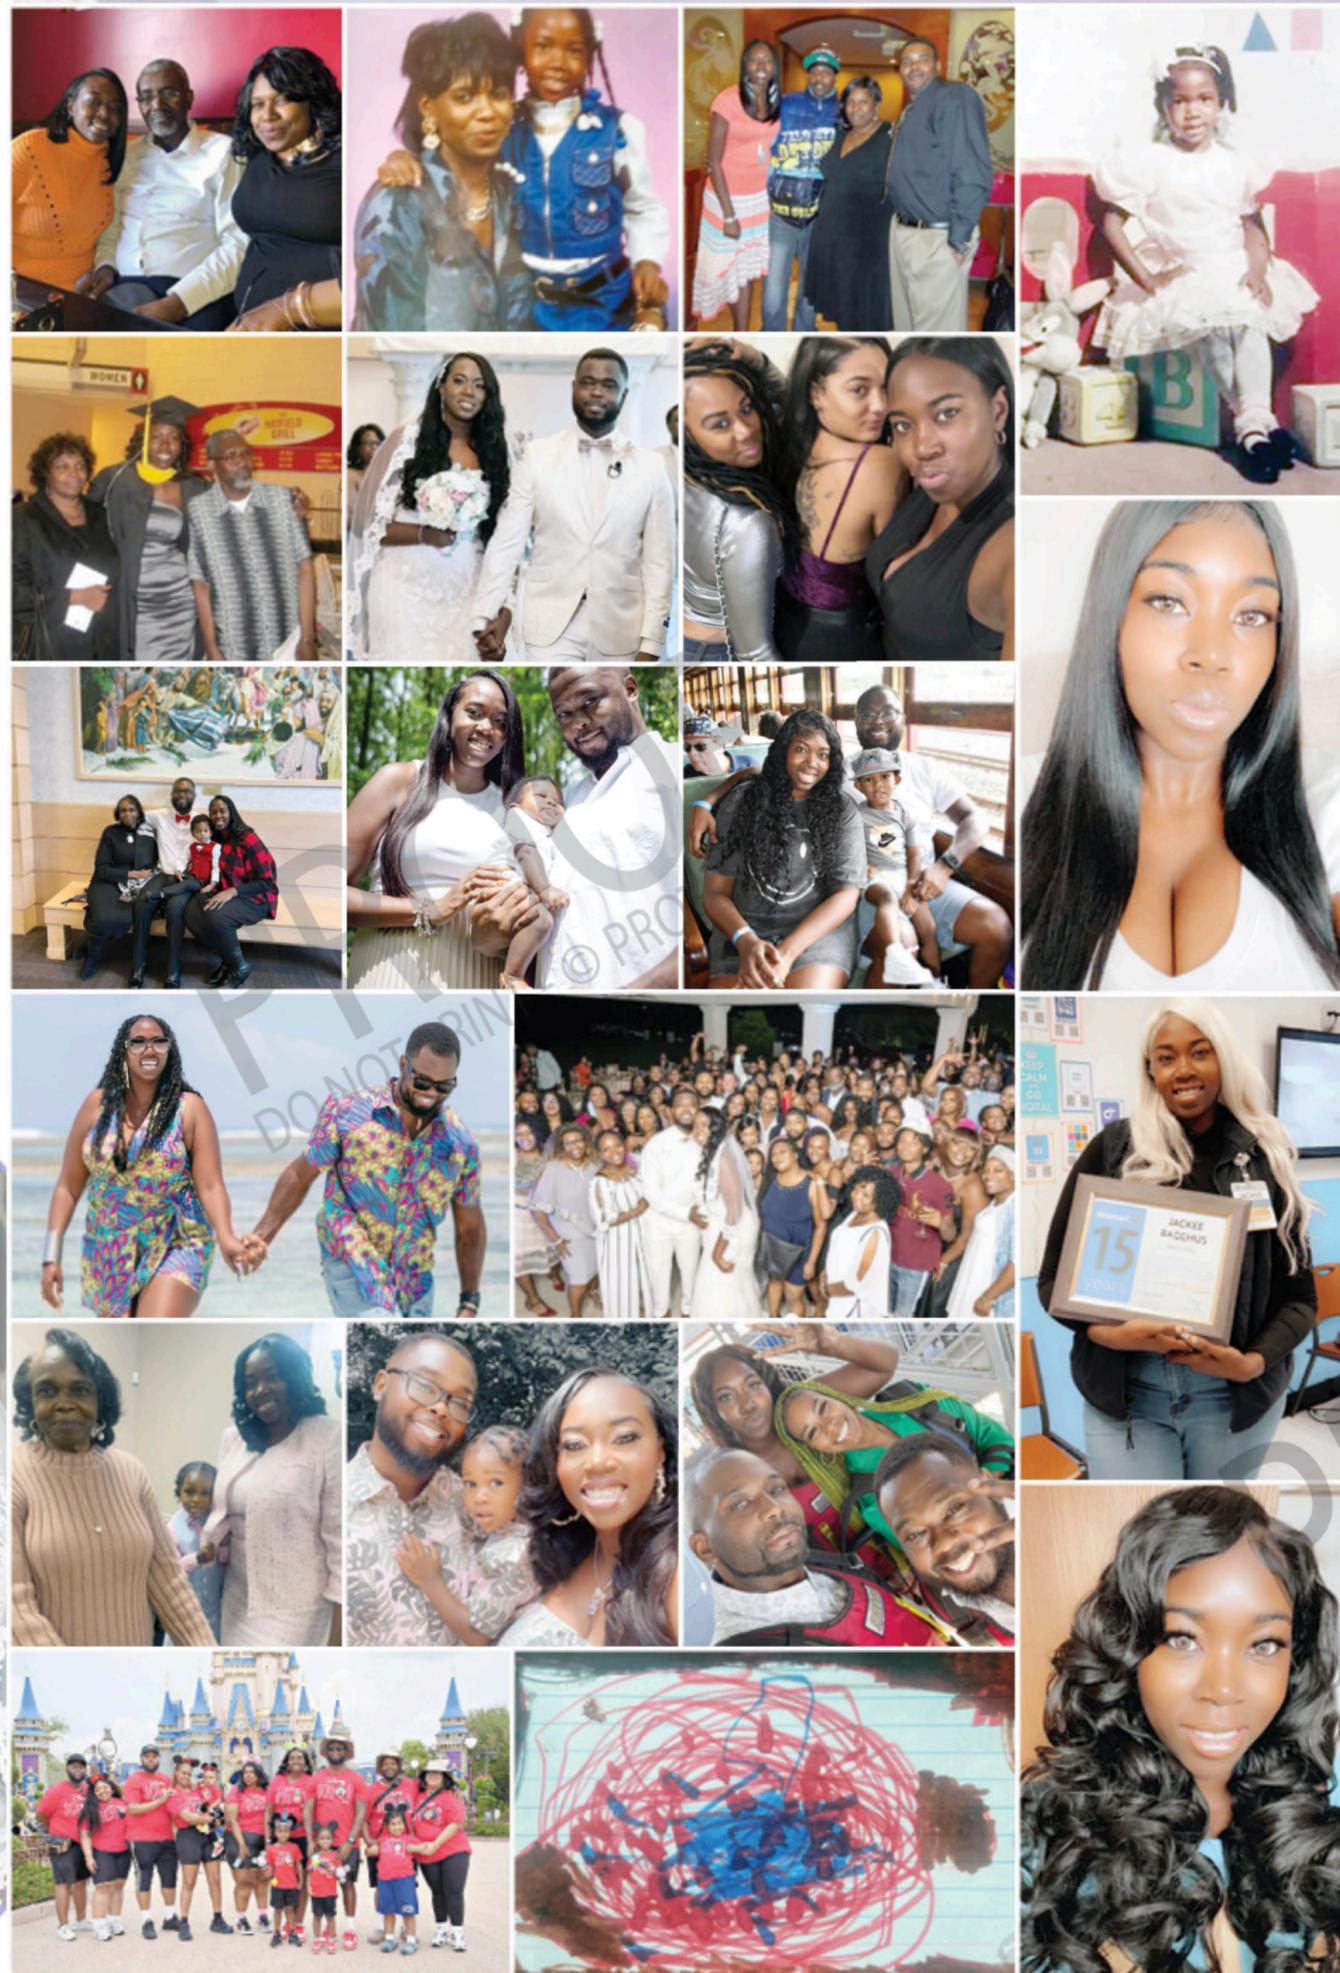

While Jackee loved the finer things, she was equally grateful for life's simple pleasures—sunflowers, sunny days, her favorite colors (purple, gold, and yellow), and cherished moments with family and friends. As an avid music lover, she enjoyed attending concerts across all genres, dancing, and creating memories. Jackee found happiness in bringing loved ones together in celebration of life.

In September 2020, she married her soulmate, Rahsaan H. Everett, and together they welcomed their one and only son, Amari J. Everett, in 2021. Jackee was fiercely devoted to her family, including her mother, Trudy Bacchus; father, I.J. Bacchus; siblings, Jamie Barnes, Elliott Barnes (Kim Barnes), and Jermaine Bacchus; brothers-in-law, Juanye Everett (Brandie Everett) and Laquan Everett; and mother-in-law, Karen Everett-Buie.

Jackee was blessed with a circle of dear close friends who became like family: Jasmine Greene, Christine Reider, Shanell Henry, Wallace Brown, and Lamia Kardis, along with a host of aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, and cousins.

Jackee's spirit will forever resonate in the hearts of all who knew her. She will be remembered for her kindness, creativity, warmth, and laughter.

Lovingly Submitted, The Family

FROM HER HUSBAND,
RAHSAAN EVERETT (BOOG):

Babe, you brought a light into my life when I needed it the most. A light so bright that it stunned me into a daze initially, but you held my hand and you didn't let go. We grew, overcame, and accomplished so much while holding tight onto each other's hands, babe. Life without you holding my hand will be tough, but you left our son here with me, so I'll never have an empty palm. Me and Amari love you so much and will forever live for you.

JACKEE—MY SISTER, MY FRIEND

We met by chance, not by design,
Two Temple girls with paths aligned.

From J&H to UV—

A sisterhood we were destined to be.

You were a roommate, meant to stay just a while—
But quickly became my sister with the forever smile.

You brought your light into every room,
Turning silence into comfort and bloom.

The noise around would fade away,
Just you and me—in our own café.

We stayed when others moved along,
Built a world where we belonged.

We watched each other rise and grow,
Through trials only we would know.

With quiet strength and steady grace,
We found our voice, we found our place.

I stood beside you, full of pride,
As you became a radiant bride.

And when I wed, you stood with me,
Just like you always promised to be.

Our mothers shared the same sweet name—
A sign, we said, we're kindred flames.

As if the stars had gently planned
A bond no time could ever withstand.

Jackee—how does the world go on
Without your laugh, your light now gone?

And yet, I feel you every day
In little things you used to say.

You're gone, and still you're near somehow—
In every then, in every now.

You were my heart, my truest friend,
And that kind of love will never end.

Remembering you always,
~Christine Reider
