MY CABIN

I am thankful for quiet times - for the dim light of my lamp making spooky little shadows, as its flame is disturbed by small drafts that sift through the cracks around the windows.

It is during these quiet magic hours that I feel the closest interactions with my Heavenly Father. This is where my appreciation for his greatness is kindled, where my testimony of his presence is strengthened, and where I ponder his generosity in bestowing so many blessing upon such an unworthy person as I.
