A Fallen Limb

A limb has fallen from a tree.
I keep hearing a voice that says, "Grieve not for me.
Remember the best times, the laughter, the song.
The good life I lived while I was strong.
Continue my heritage, I'm counting on you.
Keep smiling and surely the sun will shine through.
My mind is at ease, my soul is at rest.
Remember all, how I truly was blessed.
Continue traditions, no matter how small.
Go on with your life, don't worry about falls.
I miss you all dearly, so keep up your chin.
Until the day comes we're together again."

Zharia Monae Wilcox

REMEMBERING

Zharia Monae Wilcox was born to Latrona Sims and Khari Wilcox, both of Boston, MA, on April 1, 2000 in Miami, FL. After her parents and big sister, Shyri Wilcox moved back to Boston, she attended school in Cambridge and Boston Public Schools, graduating from Community Academy in June 2018. Zharia was well-known for her academic abilities, athletic talent and doing what she wanted to do. Her love for basketball was evident in her participation in various leagues and competitive teams, leading her to further her education and journey as a scholar-athlete at Putnam Science Academy in Putnam, CT.

Zharia was a sweet baby and intuitive from the start. As a child she cherished spending quality time with her great-grandmother, the late Mary Wilcox, and her great-aunt, Jonnie Carter, watching television or just talking. She enjoyed family trips to Cape Cod. Zharia and her big sister shared a special bond, being just a little over a year apart. Although very different, Shyri's and Zharia's love for each other was apparent. They attended dance school and cheerleading together; they enjoyed doing everything together. These memories were fondly cherished by Zharia and nurtured by their cousin Monique Carter, who also served as an aunt and mother figure in their lives, with the support of her paternal family.

Zharia had a deep love for cooking, which she credited to her father and aunt Jonnie. She enjoyed spending time with her dad in the kitchen, going to amusement & water parks, and hosting cookouts with her father, stepmother, La'Keya Solomon, and her siblings, Shyri and Da'Vonnie Wilcox. Zharia cherished spending time with her little brother Da'Vonnie, writing and bringing their raps to life. Zharia truly valued these special times.

As Zharia got older, she prioritized building positive relationships with all of her siblings, and extended family members. Zharia had enough love to go around. She also strengthened her connection with her maternal family and cultivated lasting relationships with several mentors and friends who supported and guided her. Known for her generosity, Zharia always noticed anyone in need and gave all she could to help them.

Her warm and beautiful smile, radiant eyes and sweet dimples had the power to light up any room; her giggle was infection and will be missed.

Zharia is survived by a large circle of loved ones, including her parents - Khari Wilcox and Latrona Sims; stepmother, La'Keya Solomon; sisters, Shyri Wilcox, Nashaunti Borden, Heaven Sims, Blessing Fulgham, Dominique Herndon; brothers, Da'Vonnie and Khari Wilcox, Jr., Devonte Bonds, Steven Parks, Marlo Burns and Jatavion Sims; great-aunt, Jonnie Carter; cousin, Monique Carter; grandmother, Elizabeth Ford; aunt, Raeshaundra Sims; uncles, Kyle Wilcox and David and Chris Sims; cousins, Jah Gerald, Kyle Francis; nieces, Sarah Small and Zharya and La'Kiya Wilcox; nephews, Camaji Newman and Dariel Ortiz; and many more dear family and friends.
