

*There is a field of wildflowers
in Heaven up above.
And when I think of wildflowers,
I think of all your love.
I picture you walking through them,
a big smile on your face.
Smelling, each and every one
with so much beauty, so much grace.
In your hand you hold a bottle,
half full of water for them.
Picking the prettiest ones,
and then putting them in.
Most people will see a sunflower,
and think of you today.
But for me it's always wildflowers
on a beautiful sunny day.*
