Tiny Footprints

Although your stay was brief,
Your footprints still remain—
Soft impressions on our hearts
That time cannot erase.
You never cried or opened your eyes,
Yet your presence filled our days;
A whisper of hope, a promise of love,
A dream we will always praise.
Though we cannot hold you close,
We feel you in the light—
A gentle touch upon our souls,
A star that guides the night.
Journee Skye, our little one,
Forever you will be—
A cherished angel watching over
Your family lovingly.

Spiritual Reflection

"Some souls touch this earth for only a moment,
yet their light lasts a lifetime.
Journee came softly and returned gently to perfect love,
but she will stay with you always—
in your memories, in your breath,
and in every quiet moment your hearts remember her."
