1. Je ne sais pas le jour
Où je verrai mon Roi,
Mais je sais qu'il me veut
Dans sa sainte demeure ;
La lumière vaincra
Les ombres à cette heure ;
Ce sera la gloire pour moi...

Refrain

Ce sera la gloire pour moi...(bis)

La lumière vaincra
Les ombres à cette heure :
Ce sera la gloire pour moi.

2. Je ne sais quels seront
Les chants des bienheureux,
Les accents, les accords
Des hymnes angéliques,
Mais je sais que, joignant
Ma voix aux saints cantiques,
Bientôt j'adorerai comme eux...

Refrain

Bientôt j'adorerai comme eux...(bis)

Mais je sais que, joignant
Ma voix aux saints cantiques,
Bientôt j'adorerai comme eux.

3. Je ne sais quel sera

Le palais éternel,
Mais je sais que mon âme
Y sera reconnue.
Un regard de Jésus
Sera ma bienvenue.

Pour moi, pour moi s'ouvre le ciel...

Refrain

Pour moi, pour moi s'ouvre le ciel...(bis)

Un regard de Jésus
Sera ma bienvenue.

Pour moi, pour moi s'ouvre le ciel.

1.

Quel repos céleste, Jésus, d'être à toi!
A toi pour la mort et la vie,
Dans les jours mauvais de
chanter avec foi:

Tout est bien, ma paix est infinie!

Refrain :

Quel repos, (quel repos,)
Quel repos, (quel repos,)
Quel repos, quel céleste repos.

2.

Quel repos céleste!
mon fardeau n'est plus!
Libre par le sang du Calvaire,
Tous mes ennemis, Jésus les a vaincus,
Gloire et louange à Dieu notre père!

3.

Quel repos céleste! Tu conduis mes pas,
Tu me combles de tes richesses,
Dans ton grand amour,
chaque jour tu sauras
Déployer envers moi tes tendresses.

4.

Quel repos céleste, quand enfin,
Seigneur,
Auprès de toi, j'aurai ma place.
Après les travaux, les combats, la
douleur,
À jamais je pourrai voir ta face!

Gerard's Life and Legacy

Jean G. Pamphile, affectionately known to many as Gerard, passed away peacefully on May 8, 2026, in Winter Haven, Florida. Born on December 11, 1960, in Port-Au-Prince, Haiti, Jean lived a life marked by hard work, devotion to family, and an unwavering commitment to integrity and respect.

Jean's early education at Iycee Toussaint laid a strong foundation, which he built upon by studying construction management. His love for assisting with building homes was more than a career—it was a passion that reflected his dedication to crafting spaces where families could grow and create memories. He was a man who found joy in labor and who took great pride in contributing to his community through his skilled work.

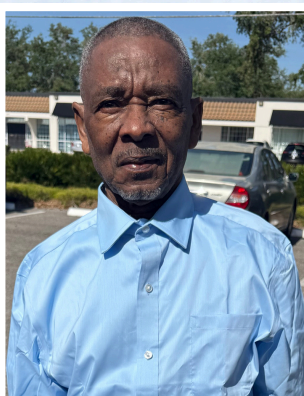

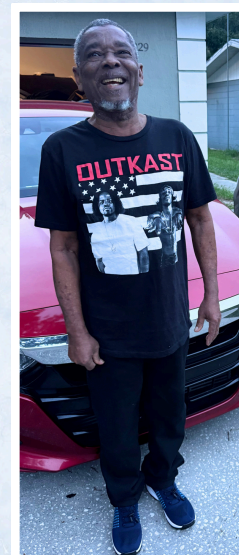

Renowned for his wise counsel and warm personality, Jean was a true pillar of strength to those who knew him. He embodied respect, not only for others but also for himself—a quality that made him deeply admired and cherished. His storytelling and infectious humor brought light and laughter into countless lives, making him a beloved presence among family and friends. Jean's spirit of joy and kindness symbolized hope and unity, and he was indeed someone everyone wanted around.

His most treasured accomplishment was ensuring that all of his children received higher education, deeply valuing the opportunities that learning provided to better themselves and their futures. This commitment to his children's success stands as a testament to his vision and love as a father.

Jean is survived by his significant other, Rosemarie Colas; his ten children—Gerard Pamphile, Roselaure Pamphile, Widelaine Pamphile, Geraldine Benjamin, Fritz Gerald Pamphile, Guyvenson Pamphile, Emmanuella Pamphile, Mackendy Pamphile, Pierre Charles Pamphile, Nathalie Pamphile—and thirteen siblings, along with seventeen grandchildren, all of whom carry forward his enduring legacy. He was preceded in death by his father, Gerard Pamphile, and his mother, Eloise Benjamain.

Throughout his life, Jean cherished time spent playing dominoes, dancing, telling jokes, and spreading laughter—simple joys that exemplified his warm and generous nature. He was a hard-working man with a profound love for his family, who valued togetherness above all else.

We honor Jean G. Pamphile's remarkable legacy of diligence, wisdom, and love—a man whose life touched many and whose memory will forever inspire those fortunate enough to have known him. May he rest in peace.
