In Loving Memory of Stacey Ann Kyle

"Well done good and faithful servant" Matthew 25:23

On July 21, 2025, our precious mother, wife and Mimi was called home to be with our Lord. While our hearts are broken, we take comfort in knowing she is now resting in the arms of Jesus, where there is no more pain, only peace.

Stacey was a woman of deep faith whose life reflected the love of Christ in all she did. Born on June 19, 1962, to Bob and Ruth Hallmark, she devoted her days to loving her family, serving others, and living out God's word with quiet strength and unwavering grace. She was the heart of the Kyle home - a source of comfort, encouragement, and prayer through every season.

As a wife, she was a faithful partner to Randy for almost 35 years. Her greatest joy was being a mother to her twin daughters, Darcey and Lindsey, whom she raised with boundless love, strength and prayer. Together, Randy and Stacey built a home full of laughter, faith, and unconditional love.

She was also a proud and loving Mimi to her three grandchildren, Rylan, Kaidyn, and Ryder. They each brought so much joy to her heart.

Her life was a quiet testimony to God's grace. She had a gift for making everyone feel at home whether through her kind words, her warm hugs, or a seat at her table. Stacey found great joy in the simple things: tending to her garden with Randy, canning what she grew, and filling her dining room table with jars of homemade pickles, and hot sauce that became a local favorite. Her hands were always busy with love.

One of the most treasured things about Stacey was her wonderful sense of humor. She was the kind of mom you could lovingly tease, and her girls never missed a chance to do just that. Her laughter was contagious, and her ability to find humor in life's simple moments brought happiness to everyone around her.

She is preceded in death by her parents, Bob Hallmark and Ruth Youngblood, and brother, Danny McCall.

Stacey is survived by her husband, Randy Duane Kyle, daughters, Lindsey Waylett and husband Austin, and Darcey Booker and husband Brad; grandchildren, Rylan, Kaidyn, and Ryder; sisters, Michelle Hallmark and Tammie White, brothers, Bob Hallmark and Mike McCall; stepmother, Helen Hallmark, and numerous nieces, nephews, relatives, and friends.

Though we mourn our loss, we rejoice knowing that Stacey is now in the presence of the Lord, at peace and free from earthly pain. She fought the good fight, finished the race, and kept the faith.

Stacey Ann Kyle

In God's Embrace

God saw her getting weary,
The road was hard to climb.
He wrapped His arms around her
And whispered, "You are Mine."

With grace she faced each trial,
With prayer she met each day.
She taught us how to walk with Him,
To trust, and always pray.

Her faith was firm, her heart was pure,
Her hands were worn with love.
And now she rests in perfect peace,
In Heaven up above.

Though we will miss her gentle voice,
We know she's safely home –
A mother's love, a gift from God,
Now singing at His throne.
