

My mother was a loving, strong, and unforgettable woman. She had a way of making the people around her feel cared for and loved. She was not only my mother, but someone I could turn to, laugh with, and learn from.

While we will miss her deeply, we are grateful for every memory, every lesson, and every moment we were blessed to share with her. Her love will continue to live through her children, grandchildren, family, and everyone whose life she touched.

I'M FREE

Don't grieve for me for now I'm free, I'm following the path God laid for me
I took his hand when I heard him call, I turned my back and left it all
I could not stay another day, to laugh, to love, to work or play
Tasks left undone must stay that way, I've found that peace at the close of day
If my parting has left a void, then fill it with remembered joy
A friendship shared, a laugh, a kiss, ah yes, these things I too will miss
Be not burdened with times of sorrow,
I wish for you the sunshine of tomorrow
My life's been full, I've savored much,
Good friends, good times, my loved one's touch
If my time seemed all too brief, don't lengthen it now with undue grief
Lift up your heart, rejoice with me,
God wanted me now, He set me free.

OBITUARY

Danielle Maryie Hogg, lovingly known to those closest to her as a devoted mother, grandmother, sister, aunt, and friend, was born on December 22, 1984, in Columbus, Ohio. She later made Orlando, Florida her home, where she lived for the past 12 years and created countless memories with the people she loved most.

Danielle leaves to cherish her memory her beloved Children: Nevaeh Williams, Jayla Keys, Stanford Clark Jr., and Brayden Bridges; her cherished Grandchild: Heaven Walker, her beloved “glam baby”; her Siblings: Genenell Hogg, Irron Hogg, and Aren Hogg; and her Close Friend and longtime Confidant: Stanford Clark Sr., with whom she raised her children and shared a special bond throughout the years. She also leaves behind a host of loving nieces and nephews, extended family members, and dear friends who will forever carry her memory in their hearts.

Danielle was a woman who cherished her family above everything. Her children were at the center of her heart and in her thoughts in every situation. She loved her children deeply and was always thinking about their well-being, happiness, and future. She was also a proud grandmother to Heaven, whom she adored and loved spoiling every chance she got.

Family meant everything to Danielle. She loved family gatherings, traveling, shopping, and simply spending time with the people closest to her. Some of the sweetest memories were made during ordinary moments—going shopping together, stopping at Starbucks for her favorite Trenta Strawberry Açaí with extra ice and light water, or picking up snacks and new treats for the family to try. She found joy in sharing those little moments and seeing the people she loved enjoy them.

Danielle had a generous and thoughtful spirit. She was always thinking about the people she cared about. Whether it was bringing home something new to try, buying something special for her “glam baby,” or simply being present when someone needed her, she had a way of showing her love through the things she did.

Her relationship with Stanford Clark Sr. was one of deep trust and companionship. As someone who helped raise their children alongside her, Stanford shared many important years and memories with Danielle. He was someone she could talk to, confide in, and trust, making their friendship a meaningful part of her life.

Danielle was also a loving sister to Genenell, Irron, and Aren Hogg, and a devoted aunt to her many nieces and nephews. Her family connections were deeply important to her, and the love she shared with them will continue to live on through the memories they created together.

Danielle worked for several years as a dietary aide, where she dedicated herself to serving others. Throughout her life, Danielle faced many health challenges, but she continued to fight, persevere, and push forward. Her strength was not defined by the battles she faced, but by the love and determination she carried through them. Even when she was struggling, she continued to show up for the people she loved.

Danielle’s life was a testament to the power of love, family, and perseverance. Her presence brought comfort, laughter, and love to those around her. She had a way of making the people she loved feel remembered, cared for, and thought of.

Though her time with us was far too short, the love she gave will continue through her children, her grandchild, her siblings, her nieces and nephews, and every person whose life she touched.

Danielle Maryie Hogg will forever be loved, forever be missed, and forever remain a part of her family.

Rest peacefully, Mom. Your love will live on through us.
