When Tomorrow Starts Without Me

*When tomorrow starts without me,
 And I'm not there to see,
 If the sun should rise and find your eyes
 All filled with tears for me;
 I wish so much you wouldn't cry
 The way you did today,
 While thinking of the many things,
 We didn't get to say.
 I know how much you love, me,
 As much as I love you,
 And each time you think of me,
 I know you'll miss me too;
 But when tomorrow starts without me,
 Please try to understand,
 That an angel came and called my name,
 And took me by the hand,
 And said my place was ready,
 In heaven far above
 And that I'd have to leave behind
 All those I dearly love.
 So when tomorrow starts without me,
 Don't think we're far apart,
 For every time you think of me,
 I'm right here, in your heart.*

Her Story

Cynthia W. Robinson, age 77, was born June 23, 1947 in Kannapolis, NC to Janie Mae Caldwell and Clifford Smith. She departed this life on September 24, 2024 in Philadelphia, PA.

Cynthia was baptized at the age of 8 at First Baptist Church, Kannapolis, NC.

Cynthia, also known as Ms. Cyent, Aunt C, and Mama Cyent, attended George Washington Carver High School in Kannapolis, NC. She participated as a majorette and played basketball. She was employed as a file clerk, worked at Cannon Mills, Ford Motor Company, and home health aide.

In 1966, she married Clevis Robinson in York, South Carolina. In 1967, she moved to Philadelphia and joined Second Mt. Zion Baptist Church, serving on the hospitality ministry and missionary ministry. She especially enjoyed cooking and singing in the choir. She was very active in her community being "block captain" or the "lunch lady" for several years, giving block events, mentoring children and helping anyone in need. She was loved by everyone.

Cynthia was very outgoing and would help anyone. She was a dedicated mother and wife to her family never putting nothing before them. She was loving, stern, charismatic, hilarious, chef, mentor and teacher. Later in life, even after getting sick and wheelchair bound, she never stopped extending her hand.

She was preceded in death by her mother, Janie Mae White; her father, Clifford Smith; her grandmother, Annie White; son, Craig White; husband, Clevis Robinson; and sister, Loretta White.

Cynthia leaves to cherish her memories, her children, Clevis Robinson and Chimere Robinson; grandchildren, Tiesha Jordan, Temika McCollum, Jayla Robinson, Demarlon Robinson, Darnell Robinson; great grandchildren, Taniyah Rice, Tanner Rice, Tinna Blunt, James Blunt, Jr.; sisters, Rose Bell and Holly Grant; and a host of other relatives and friends.

Lovingly Submitted,

The Family
