Memories to Cherish

UNTIL WE MEET AGAIN

It's selfish to want you back, but we miss you so much.
You lit up the world with your smile and laughter,
and now you'll watch over us from heaven, ever after.
You were an amazing husband, father, and grandfather.
To us all you were a great man,
but God saw more for you.
He had a greater plan. We will never forget you.
You'll always live in our heart,
and with you smiling down on us, we will never part.
One day the tears will stop, and the hurt we feel may end,
but you will always live on so, don't worry.
We will somehow carry on, finding comfort and peace that you're in heaven above. We will always miss you.
We will always want you here,
but there are no good-byes
in the waterfall of tears. We shall meet once more.
Your smile we will see again,
but you've just started what we all long for,
A life in heaven that has no end.
And though the world is a little darker without you to light up our days,
we will see your smile forevermore
in the twinkling stars and shining sun's rays.

Until we meet again,
Love Your wife, children, and grandchildren

Dear Pawpaw,

I'll miss you for the rest of my life and I'll always think about you. I will miss you and I will think about you, and I hope you will do the same. I love you so much and I wish I could talk to you one more time. You taught me the ropes of life. You were like a father to me when mine wasn't there and I'm thankful for a grandpa like you. I will always miss you and I will always love you forever. I miss you pawpaw and I love you so much.
