Mommy,

They say there is a reason they say time will heal;
Neither time or reason will change the way I feel.
Gone are the days we used to share,
but in my Heart you are always there.
The gates of memories will never close
I will miss you more than anybody knows..
Love and miss you everyday until we meet again always and forever.

Wanda, Sabrina, and David
"Mommy me Love You long time"

Grandmom Dee

I know the feeling of losing someone you love.
Sometimes we question why?
To the one above.
But He alone, with loving care,
Knew how much Grandma Dee could bear.
She was strong and feisty,
A great person to have known—
No doubt,
No doubt he felt her work was done.
Grandma Dee fought a good fight,
Her battle was won.
May God be with you in your hour of grief.
May this dear loss strengthen your belief.

We love you,
Grandma Dynamite.

FOREVER IN OUR HEARTS

Her Journey

Delores Green was born on May 28, 1949, in Philadelphia to her proud parents, Mabel Rose Spuriel and Leon William Green. From an early age, Delores carried herself with determination, style, and grit—the kind of woman who could handle anything life threw her way and still show up looking flawless.

She received her early education at Our Lady of Mercy Catholic Elementary School and Gillespie High School. After school, Delores wore many hats: she cared for others at Bayada, served countless tables as a waitress, cleaned buildings, homes with grace, and sold home-cooked meals that filled bellies and paid bills. A true hustler in every sense. Delores made a way for her family.

When she wasn't working, she was loving. Delores found joy in cooking, traveling, family gatherings, and looking good while doing it. She didn't just like fashion, she embodied it. She was always the flyest in the room. Her grandchildren knew her as "Diva Dee" and "Grandma Dynamite" (names that say everything about how she moved through the world). Delores loved fiercely and laughed loudly.

Delores grandchildren kept her young, and she never missed a chance to hit back a compliment with her signature saying: "Peer-eeee-odddd"!!!

Delores leaves behind her beloved daughters: Wanda, (husband James Powell), Sabrina, son David, her treasured grandchildren: Nidearra (Husband Zaamir Moore), Shaira, Shakearra, Imani, Kenisha, Mardia, Anthony, Zyki, Zayyir, Shaniya, and, Jeremiah, sixteen great-grandchildren; her siblings Veronica (Husband Leonard Clark), Victory, Marian, and Irving; and a host of nieces, nephews, and extended family who adored her.

Delores joins in rest with her loving mother Mabel, father Leon, late husband Anthony, son Kenneth, grandson "Lil Denny," brothers Moselle and William, sisters Rose Lee, Cammie, and her children fathers Gold, and David.

Delores leaves behind a legacy that can't be measured in years, but in the lives she shaped, the love she gave, and the confidence she walked with. Her spirit lives on in every loud laugh, every sharp outfit, every family meal and in every person she made feel seen and loved.

Lovingly Submitted,

The Family
