I Made it Home

I want to let you all know that I made it home. The journey was an easy one, and it didn't take too long.

Everything is beautiful here, so white, so fresh, and new. I wish you all were here with me so that you could see it too.

But your time has not yet come, so for now I'll hold your space. You should cherish every moment, live and grow in grace.

My life is now safely in his hands. Here there is no sadness, sorrow, or pain. Here there is no crying and I'll never hurt again.

The sounds of heaven are so peaceful when all the angels sing. My new life awaits but I want you to find refuge safely under His wings.

Focus on the goodness, the times we shared in love. Find my smile in every rainbow, ray of sunshine and beautiful cloud above.
