Debra Diane Fitzgerald

January 12, 1951 - March 30, 2026

Her laughter lingered, warm and low, in quiet moments we came to know.

A playful spark, a loving way, even in the games we'd play.

*A Diet Coke resting by her side, a pot of beans, made with pride.
Sunlit waters, peaceful and still,
where she found her simple thrill.*

She loved the holidays, every light and glow, the joy of decorating, the care she would show.

With gentle touches and heartfelt grace, she made each season a warmer place.

She always loved without condition or end, whether as mother, partner, or friend.

*It lived in her actions, quiet and deep,
a kind of love you'll always keep.*

She loved her family, deep and sincere, her husband's hand always near.

With open arms and a giving heart, she made a house a work of art.

And though she's gone from what we see, her love remains so tenderly.

In every heart, in every home, lives the warmth of Debra we've known.

I Wouldn't Change You If I Could

I wouldn't change a single thing about you if I could

The way you are just suits me to a T

A princess in a storybook

A king upon his throne

That's what we are and you belong to me

I wouldn't change you if I could

I love you as you are

You're all that I would wish for

If I wished upon a star

An angel sent from heaven

You're everything that's good

You're perfect just the way you are

Your eyes your lips, your tender smile

I'd leave them as they are

And come what may I'd never change a thing

And if I were a potter

And you a piece of clay

The only thing I'd change would be your name

I wouldn't change you if I could

I love you as you are

You're all that I would wish for

If I wished upon a star

An angel sent from heaven

You're everything that's good

You're perfect just the way you are

I wouldn't change you if I could
