Obituary

Ellis Turner Bolling was born February 8, 1971 in Cincinnati, Ohio to Edward Bolling Jr. and Evelyn Turner Bolling. He was known to his mother as "Cuz" and to his family and friends as 180 and 187. He grew up in Lincoln Courts where he made many lifelong friends. He attended George W. Hayes Elementary School, Jennie D. Porter Middle School and graduated from Robert A Taft High School. He also received a Vocational Training Certificate. Ellis worked many different jobs in the field of hospitality including production, manufacturing, cooking, landscaping, flooring, and detailing. Though Ellis worked many jobs, he had aspirations of starting his own cleaning company.

Ellis was also a lover of all things sports including reading sports illustrated magazines, watching professional boxing, basketball, and football. He was a faithful fan of the Golden State Warriors, Steph Curry, the Cincinnati Reds, and the Cincinnati Bengals. In his youthful days, he played football for Taft High School, and shadow boxed recreationally.

Ellis was a family man that enjoyed spending time with and speaking with his brothers, sisters, nieces, and nephews. He especially enjoyed talks with his son, traveling to visit his family in Florida to spend time with his daughter, son-in-law, and his grandkids. He also loved spending time with his mother and best friend Evelyn Bolling. Ellis was also a faithful friend and enjoyed spending time with his close friends Dave Williams, Mark Williams, Kevin "Kelbo" Johnson, Eric Black, Tyrone Woodward, Terry "Whoopi" Christian, Jerome Nelson, Lloyd Mitchell, Todd Cunningham, Tony Carr, and a host of other friends and co-workers.

Finally, Ellis was a humanitarian. He always had an available shoulder to lean on, a listening ear, and a trusted friend to confide in. He was always willing to help those in need.

Ellis was also a believer in Jesus Christ. He expressed his faith by becoming a member of Church of Our Saviour located in Cincinnati, Ohio where he consulted Mother Paula for spiritual guidance. He also supported the needs of the church by working in the Food Distribution Center and attending to the various needs of the church.

Ellis was preceded in death by his father Edward Bolling Jr., his brother Dennis Bolling, and nephew De'Mile Cunningham. He was survived by his mother Evelyn Bolling; his siblings Vincent Bolling, Sheila Bolling, Beverly Bolling, Phillip Bolling Sr., and Cedric Bolling; his bonus sister Linda Collins; the mother of his children Bernita Woods; his daughter Dr. Queshonda Kudaisi, his son Deontae Bolling, and his son in law Matthew Kudaisi; his bonus daughter Elision Woods and bonus son Kendell Smith; his grandkids Anna Victoria Kudaisi, Abigail Victoria Kudaisi, Alexandra Victoria Kudaisi, Ava Victoria Kudaisi and his only grandson Alexander Victor Kudaisi; his nieces Sharon Russell (Hubert Russell Sr.), Camera Bolling, Denisha Bolling, Jayln Phillips, Philicity Jones, and Kiala Dawson; his nephews Raphael Bolling, Phillip Bolling Jr., Paxton; His great nieces Brooklyn Russell and Braelynn Russell; and his great nephews Hubert Russell Jr. and Karter Phillips.

Ellis will be laid to rest with his brother Dennis Bolling at Spring Grove Cemetery, and his father Edward Bolling who is at the Veterans Memorial Cemetery in Dayton, Ohio.
